TRIAL IN LONDON OF HOHENZOLLERN WAS LLOYD GEORGE'S PLAN

British Prime Minister Reported to Have Made Proposal and None of Members of Allied Council Offered Objection; Clemenceau Approved

Paris, July 8.—The agreement reached by the Allied Council that the trial of W. Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, would be held in London as announced by Mr. Lloyd George in the House of Commons last week, was a tacit one, but from American sources it has been learned the agreement was regarded as binding.

What purports to be an authentic account of the incident at a session of the Council upon which the British Prime Minister based his statement has become available from a usually reliable source. It is stated that at a meeting of the Council last week the British Prime Minister said to his fellow conferees something about as follows:

"I suppose you have no objection to the trial of the ex-Kaiser in London?"

The Prime Minister looked around the circle, the account continues, and no one objected. Indeed, it is said Premier Clemenceau gave his verbal approval.

This tacit agreement was never recorded in writing and Sir Maurice Sankey, the British secretary, did not include it in his regular report of the proceedings of the Council. The assumption is, however, that Mr. Lloyd George later had unofficial conversations on the subject with one or more members of the Council.

German's Idea.
Amsterdam, July 4.—Delayed.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm and his wife apparently are unperturbed by the possibility that proceedings will be brought by the Allied Powers for the extradition of the former monarch's suite. Members of the former monarch's suite have indicated in conversations with the Associated Press correspondent here that it was their opinion that any proceedings from Allied quarters would be protracted for many months without any certainty that The Netherlands Government would consent to hand the former Kaiser over for trial.

BIG CELEBRATION IN FRANCE JULY 14

Fabulous Prices For Vantage Points in Paris For Peace Demonstration

Paris, July 8.—Plans for the celebration of Victory Day, July 14, are nearing completion. It promises to be the greatest day in the history of Paris. Fabulous prices are being asked for windows and balcony seats along the Champs Elysee and for hotel accommodations in the city. In the vicinity of the Arc de Triomphe, especially, the prices paid for the rental of windows for two hours would provide homes for indigent families for years. For a single window or balcony seat from $200 to $300 will be paid. The price of a balcony situated midway between the place de la Concorde and the Arc de Triomphe is advertised at $2,000. There are accommodations in that balcony for about twenty persons. Hotelkeepers are raising their prices from 50 to 100 per cent. for the week of July 10-17, turning out guests long standing to make room for prospective visitors. More than 3,000 men are at work preparing for the celebration.

Prisoners Released in Hanover, Germany, By Mob Yesterday

Berlin, July 8.—A mob attacked the castle and the detention prison at Hanover, Monday, and released all prisoners in the buildings. The guards, it is stated, surrendered their arms without resistance. Some fighting occurred between the crowds and Government troops.

WM. D. HAYWOOD TO BE RELEASED ON APPEAL

Chicago, July 8.—Bonds for the release of William D. Haywood, leader of the ninety-three I. W. W.'s convicted before Federal Judge Landis here last August, have been approved by United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne and the Court of Appeals. Haywood was sentenced to twenty years in the federal penitentiary and fined $10,000 last October by Judge Landis following a verdict of guilty against him and his co-defendants by a jury on August 24. He is the fifth out of the ninety-three to be released on bonds pending the appeal of their cases to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

HOGS CLIMBED TO $22.60 ON MARKET AT CHICAGO TO-DAY

Chicago, July 8.—Breaking of high price records continued to-day in the hog market here. Values climbed to $22.60 a hundredweight, an upturn of ten cents compared with the latest previous record. Nearly every day during the last week has witnessed a new apex. Prospective food demand from Europe is the reason most frequently given.

PROFITEERING IN ITALY TO CEASE

Those Convicted Will Be Sent to Jail or Fined

London, July 8.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has issued a decree that profiteers in future will be fined 10,000 lire ($2,000) or sentenced to from three months to three years in prison, and in addition, will suffer confiscation of the goods according to a Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Unauthorized middlemen dealing in food will suffer similar penalties, it is said.

The dispatch states that a general strike was declared in Naples on Monday. After looting outlying stores in that city, a crowd attempted to reach the centre of the place, but was prevented by the police, who were occupying the principal streets.

At Palermo the police have arrested 400 former convicts, who are alleged to be responsible for many of the disorders on Sunday.

In Florence. In Florence all the business houses of the city were overrun yesterday morning with bargain hunters who sought to take advantage of the price reduction decreed there, according to a dispatch from that city. Workmen's committee in Florence deliberately closed the stores there, thereby making fabulous profits. The King's Commissioner for Florence issued a proclamation yesterday placing the population on rations and decreasing reductions in prices approximately fifty per cent. on eatables. The restaurants and cafes were ordered to lower their rates thirty per cent.

Peace Treaty to Be Debated by German Assembly To-morrow

Basel, July 8.—The bill of the German Government providing for the ratification of the peace treaty, according to a report from Weimar, will be presented to-day to the constitutional committee of the National Assembly. The measure will be discussed Wednesday by the entire Assembly.

ELECTORAL BILL IS PASSED IN FRANCE

Paris, July 8.—The electoral reform bill, with amendments, was passed yesterday by the Chamber of Deputies. The vote was 342 to 121.

BODY OF CAPTAIN FRYATT LAID TO REST IN ENGLAND WITH STATE HONORS TO-DAY

London, July 8.—A national tribute of honor was paid to-day to the memory of Captain Charles Fryatt, executed by the Germans in 1916 for attempting to sink a German submarine, by a national memorial service at St. Paul's Cathedral.

After lying in state at the Dover station overnight, the body arrived at Charing Cross Station at 11 o'clock and was placed on a gun carriage, drawn by bluejackets. A cortege was formed, headed by relatives and including representatives of the Admiralty, War Office, other Government departments and all sailor organizations.

The coffin was hidden under a mass of flowers, among which were magnificent wreaths from the townspeople of Bruges and Antwerp. Only the steady tramp of feet and the solemn strains of funeral music broke the silence as the cortege passed through the streets.

At the Cathedral the ceremonies were generally a repetition of those in memory of Miss Cavell. At the conclusion of the service, the procession was re-formed and again made an impressive progress to the

ALLIES APPROVE MOVE ON PETROGRAD

Council of Five Endorses Siberian-Finnish Plan of Attack

Paris, July 8.—Approval of a plan for a concerted attack upon Petrograd by Finnish troops and the forces of the Kolchak Government at Omsk was given yesterday by the Council of Five.

A joint note has been sent the military attaches of Britain, the United States, France and Italy at Helsinki, Finland, instructing them to support the Finnish Government if it decides to accede to the request of Admiral Kolchak to assist him in the campaign. There is no indication that the Allied and Associated Powers propose to go further at this time in helping Kolchak's plan, but their action in supporting the Finns is regarded as equivalent to assurances that they will see the Kolchak movement carried through.

Evacuation. Washington, July 8.—Definite information that the Bolshevik authorities are planning to evacuate Petrograd has been received in official circles here. The decision to quit the capital was said to have been vigorously opposed by some elements of the Government.

TURKISH CONTROL IS SPLITTING UP

Kamel Pasha May Form Separate Government in Asia Minor

Paris, July 8.—The formation of a separate Turkish Government in Asia Minor by Kamel Pasha and Easad Pasha is indicated as a possibility in dispatches received in Peace Conference circles from Greek sources. Kamel Pasha, who is reported to have 40,000 troops, with forty-seven heavy guns and many machine guns, is said to have refused to comply with an order from the Government in Constantinople to return to the capital. Easad Pasha is understood to be in Asia Minor in the territory controlled by Kamel Pasha, and it is said he is in touch with Kamel, presumably in the hope of forming a coalition form of Government.

July 19 as Holiday in the Dominion for Celebration of Peace

Ottawa, July 8.—It is expected that an Order-in-Council declaring Saturday, July 19 a statutory holiday for the celebration of peace will be passed at the Cabinet meeting this afternoon.

MINORITY PEOPLES TO HAVE PROTECTION

Paris, July 8.—Special treaties and the League of Nations will protect minority peoples, especially Jews, in the countries of Eastern Europe, Stephen Pichon, French Foreign Minister, pointed out in reply to a communication from a group of Deputies, issued for publication last night.

Foods and Goods Are to Move More Freely Into France

Paris, July 8.—Decrees suppressing almost entirely the prohibition against imports into France were signed by President Poincare to-day after a Cabinet meeting at which the high cost of living was discussed. The prohibitions, as a result, will apply to only about one dozen articles. Another decree signed by the President simplifies the customs laws.

Martial Law. Paris, July 8.—(Havas).—The proposal to abolish martial law, since the beginning of the war, will be discussed in the Chamber of Deputies to-day.

AUSTRIA TO JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

May Do So When Necessary Conditions Met, Allies Declare

Paris, July 8.—The Council of Five decided yesterday to inform the Austrian delegates that their Government will be admitted to the League of Nations as soon as it has complied with the necessary conditions. This notification is in reply to the Austrian note on the subject. The reply is of a friendly character.

Treaty Delayed. Paris, July 8.—A decision of the Council of Five to devote further time to consideration of Austrian territorial questions has resulted in the Austrian peace treaty being held up after the printers had set the type and handed over the proofs.

The boundaries question will be taken up to-morrow, and it is said that the treaty will not be ready for presentation before the end of the week at the earliest.

Censorship. Paris, July 8.—Decision was reached by the Council of Five yesterday to lift the commercial censorship of communications with Germany simultaneously with the lifting of the blockade. This decision will not affect the censorship on matters of a political nature.

BRIG.-GEN. SMART REITERATES CHARGES

Scores White and Mewburn For Speeches on Overseas Administration

Montreal, July 8.—Speaking at Victoria Hall, Westmount, last night, Brigadier-General C. A. Smart, M. P. P., reviewed the speeches made by Sir Thomas White and Major-General S. C. Mewburn, Minister of Militia, during the debate in the House of Commons at Ottawa on the Canadian overseas administration and reiterated the charges made by him before the Quebec Legislature last winter. He replied to what he called the "mean insinuations" made in these speeches, and at one point gave the "lie" direct to General Mewburn.

Speaking of Sir William Baple, who had presided over the Commission that had sat on the findings of the Bruce Commission, General Smart stated that only the social position of Sir William Baple, his political pull and his V. C. martial and added that Sir William should have been shot. He claimed that Sir Thomas White must have been shown bad faith in not touching on the British Government's blue book on the Mesopotamia report, since he must have had access to it in looking up Sir William Baple's record.

General Smart made strong attacks upon Sir George Parley, Sir William Turner, General Foster, Sir Edward Kemp and Sir Robert Borden. He urged that a royal commission or an inquiry into the overseas administration be constituted at the earliest moment, and reiterated his statement that Sir Arthur Currie had been intrigued against.

GRAND CROSS OF LEGION OF HONOR AWARDED TO MANGIN

Paris, July 8.—General Mangin has been awarded the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

General Mangin, one of the most prominent French leaders in the war, first came into general notice by his counter-offensive against the Germans in the Verdun region in October, 1918. Later he directed the French offensive on the Aisne and was in command of the French and American forces which launched the great counter-attack against the Germans on July 18, 1918, between Soissons and Chateau Thierry.

DEPARTURE OF R-34 FROM THE STATES IS POSTPONED FOR DAY

Mechanics Tune Up Engines for Return Flight to Britain But Unfavorable Weather Outlook Causes Hour of Start to Be Delayed

Mineola, N. Y., July 8.—The start of the return trans-Atlantic cruise of the British dirigible R-34 was deferred to-day from early to-morrow morning, the hour which had been fixed for her departure, for at least fifteen, and possibly twenty-four hours.

Washington, July 8.—Delay for at least forty-eight hours in the start of the return flight of the British dirigible R-34 was recommended to-day by the United States weather bureau in a forecast sent to the ship at Mineola, L. I., by the Navy Department.

Mineola, N. Y., July 8.—Major G. E. M. Pritchard, executive officer of the giant British dirigible R-34, after inspecting the engines of the airship at 9 a. m. to-day, said all repairs would be completed by 9 o'clock to-night and that supplies would be taken aboard before midnight. With favorable weather he said the R-34 would be ready to start at daylight to-morrow.

Major Pritchard said the airship would take the southern track 400 or 500 miles north of the Azores, in view of a favorable forecast of "clear" weather for the next forty-eight hours made by the weather bureau in Washington and received here this morning.

INVESTIGATION OF FIUME INCIDENTS

Four Generals Directed by Allied Council to Inquire Into Clashes There

Paris, July 8.—A commission composed of four generals, representing Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States, has been appointed by the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference to investigate the recent incidents at Fiume.

Dozen Killed. Rome, July 8.—About a dozen men, mostly French colonial soldiers, were killed at Fiume during the recent disorders in which Allied forces and Italian troops participated.

Settlement Urged. Paris, July 8.—Tommaso Tittoni, the Italian Foreign Minister and head of the Italian delegation to the Peace Conference, is anxious to have the Adriatic problem settled as quickly as possible.

Speaking at the Peace Conference, he made known in a long conversation with one of the American peace commissioners before his departure. The particular reason advanced by the Italian peace delegate was the increasing friction between French and Italian troops in Fiume and elsewhere along the Adriatic.

GENERAL ELECTION IN FRANCE MAY BE HELD OCTOBER 26

Paris, July 8.—(Havas).—In Government circles it is believed that general parliamentary elections will be held on October 26, according to The Echo de Paris.

Spitzbergen Claims of the Norwegians to Be Investigated

Paris, July 8.—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference has decided to appoint a committee of four members to inquire into Norway's claims in Spitzbergen. A Norwegian note on war claims and the repatriation of Armenians were among matters considered yesterday by the Council of Five. The Norwegian note was one presenting claims for ships sunk during the war by submarines and damages for loss of sailor's lives.

The matter of the repatriation of Armenians in Armenia Russia was referred to Viscount Milner, British member of the Committee on Mandatories.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES IN FRANCE TO JOIN STRIKE ON JULY 21

Paris, July 8.—The executive committee of the Federation of French Postal Employees decided to-day to join the General Labor Federation of France in its twenty-four-hour strike on July 21, according to Le Journal.

BORDEN PLANS TO ENJOY A HOLIDAY

Will Take Up Cabinet Reconstruction When He Returns

Ottawa, July 8.—Now that the session has been ended, there will be a scaling of ministers. Sir Robert Borden, after cleaning up some odds and ends of work, will leave the city for a short holiday. Other members of the Government are planning a respite after the heavy duties of a long session.

It is expected that on his return Sir Robert will take up Cabinet reconstruction. The resignation of Hon. T. A. Crerar left a vacancy at the head of the Department of Agriculture which has not yet been filled, although with the appointment of Hon. Hugh Guthrie to Cabinet rank, the number of members of the Cabinet remains unchanged.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, is expected in Ottawa to-morrow night from Paris. Hon. A. L. Sifton, Minister of Customs, who, with Mr. Doherty, signed the peace treaty on behalf of Canada, probably will not be back until early in August. The latest indications indicated that he had some business to clear up in London before leaving for Canada.

On the Opposition side keen preparations are under way for the National Convention in August, when a policy will be laid down and a permanent leader in succession to Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be chosen.

BURLESON HAS NOT QUIT U. S. CABINET

Washington, July 8.—Postmaster General Burleson to-day declared there was no foundation for reports that he had sent his resignation to President Wilson.

YOUTH FELL OVER CLIFF ON MAINLAND AND WAS KILLED

Vancouver, July 8.—Dashed to death on the rocks in Mill Creek appears to have been the fate which overtook nineteen-year-old Claude Alexander Fraser, a recently returned member of the British aviation service, who has been missing from his home at Mill Creek since last Thursday. "Bloodhounds" traced the missing youth to the edge of a gorge, where they found a 200-foot precipice. Here a newly-cut fishing rod was found and it is believed Fraser accidentally fell to the rocks below.

SINN FEIN BODIES ARE OUTLAWED IN TIPPERARY COUNTY

Dublin, July 8.—A proclamation has been issued from Dublin Castle declaring all Sinn Fein organizations and Irish Volunteers in the County of Tipperary unlawful associations. This announcement is made in a memorandum of the Chief Secretary for Ireland, enumerating a series of crimes and offences in the past year, and stating that, as the measures already taken have failed to check the "Sinn Fein criminal activity," the Government is compelled to suppress the organizations.

SASKATOON LIBERALS CHOOSE DELEGATES

Elect Representatives to Attend the National Liberal Convention

Saskatoon, July 8.—Liberal representatives from the Saskatoon riding met yesterday afternoon and chose delegates to attend the big Liberal Convention at Ottawa on August 1. The following were nominated: For the West—H. B. Locker, Willowfield, or A. P. Smith, of Biggar. North—H. Lawrence, Aberdeen, or A. B. Crane, Warman. City—Charles Locke or F. F. McDermott.

Resolutions supporting the Liberal platform as outlined by the Provincial Liberal Party were adopted, including lower tariff, soldiers' settlement which shall include help for men desiring to remain in the towns, British preference and the carrying through of the reciprocity agreement of 1911 with the United States.

The following officers were elected to the new board of association, which has been reorganized: Hon. presidents, Leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House and Premier Martin; president, J. F. Cairns; first vice-president, J. W. Casey; second vice-president, L. B. Locker; third vice-president, R. J. Moffat; secretary, Charles Locke. Thirteen men and three women were elected on the executive.

THIS PROVINCE SENDING MORE LUMBER TO UNITED STATES

Vancouver, July 8.—The export of lumber from British Columbia to the United States is increasing, and for the six-month period ended June 30 an increase of over $2,500,000 is shown in the export of lumber products as compared with the same period for last year.

The total declared value of logs, lumber and kindred articles exported to the United States from January 1, 1919, to June 30, 1919, was $8,850,469; and for the corresponding period in 1918 it was $6,350,182. Nearly 51,000 feet of lumber, valued at $1,497,358, was exported during the past six months, and 706,748,910 shingles, valued at $3,336,322.

Paper products also show a healthy increase as compared with last year. During the six months 78,997,184 pounds of paper and pulp, valued at $2,878,309, were exported across the line, while in 1918 the total for the same period amounted to $1,837,287.

The lumber shipments from Victoria, Fernie and Prince Rupert will for the six months period of 1919, closely approximate $2,000,000, making the total shipments of lumber and its products for this period $10,850,000.

A VICTORY TRAIN.

Frederick City, Md., July 8.—The six-truck Victory train of the United States Motor Transport Corps reached this city from Washington yesterday on its ocean-to-ocean run.

BORDEN PRAISES SIR ARTHUR CURRIE

Says General Always Avoided Any Needless Sacrifice of Troops

Ottawa, July 8.—High tribute was paid Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie by Sir Robert Borden in the Commons yesterday. In moving the resolution of thanks to the Canadian army which was passed shortly before prorogation, Sir Robert said:

"Time would fail me to speak by name of the thousands of Canadians whose service brought distinction and high recognition. Of one, however, I can speak—the Canadian who during the latter years of the war took command of the Canadian army after it had been relinquished by Sir Julian Byng. As Prime Minister I was brought into very close contact with Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, especially during the early summer of 1918, when the fortunes of the Allies seemed at their lowest, when we had reached that darkest hour which came before the dawn of victory.

Criticism is unjust. There has been a whisper of criticism that he was not sufficiently mindful of his duty to safeguard the lives of those under his command. In my judgment no criticism could be more unjust. Indeed, I know that on more than one occasion, and especially on one notable occasion, he took a stand in defiance of military precedent, a stand which would have been impossible except for his independent position as a Canadian general, a stand which involved risk to his own status and reputation. That stand he took for one reason and one reason alone—his duty to avoid needless sacrifice of the troops under his command.

No general at the front more fully realized the solemn duty, and during the last eighteen months of the war there was no general whose judgment was more respected, none whose ability and thoroughness were more relied upon than he, who then commanded the Canadian Corps.

Special Corps. Dealing with arms of the service other than the infantry and artillery, of whose splendid deeds he had spoken, Sir Robert said: "In France I saw the not spectacular but very necessary and effective work of the Canadian Railway Corps, of the units which held the lines of communication; I met Canadians who in the flying service or the like had brought notable service to the Allied cause and honor and distinction to their country. Everywhere I saw Canadian organization.

Woman's Work. "No tribute would be complete which overlooked the glorious unselfishness of our womanhood, of whom not a few gave up their lives for their country's cause or which forgot the efficiency of the medical service in caring for our men, whether at the battlefield or in the hospitals, and the unselfish devotion of those who toiled that others might live.

Naval Men. "Let us not fail to remember those other Canadians who in our own naval forces or in those of Great Britain aided in the great task of guarding our commerce and ending the menace of the enemy submarines; those also who in many varied occupations, whether in Canada or British factories did their part as opportunity and occasion called them. A tribute also is due to the men skilled in science who went forth from our shores and whose notable contribution in felling the undersea warfare of the enemy has not been fully told nor adequately appreciated.

"And shall we forget those who reluctantly remained in Canada or in Great Britain at the command of duty, chafing under their desire to see service at the front; who during long hours and through lonely vigils toiled incessantly at tasks which lacked the inspiration of active service, and sometimes under unjust and unworthy reproach, when in truth their most intense desire was to join their comrades in the fighting lines?

British Officers. "I have spoken of the Canadians who served in the British units. Let us not forget the distinguished service of many British officers who were attached from time to time to the Canadian Corps and whose names are inseparably associated with its record and achievements.

Discipline. "There is one great essential in the development of an army into a fighting organization. That essential is an adequate discipline. That lesson the Canadian Corps learned very easily in the war and it served the men always in good stead. It will serve the men in good stead during the days of peace, because in these times of disquiet and unrest the steady influence of the men who held our line in the fighting lines.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, and you know these things will not cure your trouble in some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bleached magnesia—the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bleached magnesia, which is obtained from practically any drugist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous acids in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You will find that provided you take a little bleached magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and, moreover, the continued use of the bleached magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Europe will be needed here in Canada as much as their valor and devotion were needed at the front. Their responsibility is commensurate with the immense influence which they can exercise upon the national life and future destiny of their country. It is not only a collective but an individual responsibility of which no one of them can divest himself.

"Tender in Eastern Europe the clamor of war still resounds, but pray God that we may now be approaching the days of perfect peace.

Ideals. "The sacrifices that we have made, the burdens that we are called upon to bear will have been of little purpose unless out of the war we can read some lesson, gather some example and establish some ideals which will more truly serve the national purpose. Compared with conditions in Europe, opportunity stands at every man's door in Canada. Compared with the intense racial animosities which exist in some countries beyond the ocean, our differences in Canada fade into utter insignificance.

We have wasted too much time upon them in the past. For the future let us put them behind. There are voices which have been hushed, but which for us shall never be silent—the voices of those who died that the higher ideals of democracy and civilization might live. Sixty thousand Canadians who have given their lives for their country and for the world's peace speak to us by their example, their devotion. They speak to us of wider sympathies, of broader understanding, of more generous forbearance, of more united effort in all its tasks that lie before us in our national life.

"If these voices can make themselves heard above noisy clamor and unworthy controversy, the future of our country rests secure upon an enduring and eternal foundation. Beyond the seas, at St. Julien and in the Sanctuary Wood, at Courcellette and Vimy and Passchendaele, at Amiens and Arras and the Bourlon Wood, there will be erected solemn and stately monuments commemorating the devotion and sacrifice of those who died and of those who lived to see the final triumph.

"But neither granite nor graven words will be so enduring as the imperishable memory of their deeds forever enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen."

Sir Robert then moved that the formal thanks of the House be conveyed to the military and naval forces of Canada.

Mr. McKenzie.

In seconding the motion, D. D. McKenzie, the Opposition Leader, paid a tribute to Canadian men and women in the war.

Canada had been untrained in the arts of war. She had been trained to the arts of peace, of civilization and of true democracy. But when the Kaiser had undertaken to change conditions, the Canadian people had sprung to arms. "We were glad," Mr. McKenzie added, "to deal with our blood the principles for which our forefathers stood, and which had been handed down to us from posterity."

Referring to Sir Arthur Currie, Mr. McKenzie said he was sure the nation would never forget General Currie's achievements, and never forget the prominent part he had in bringing glory to Canada. "War veterans in the United States were proud to say they had served with Grant. The day would come when the veterans of the grand army of Canada would be proud to say to their children: 'He served with Currie.'"

Mr. McKenzie concluded with words of sympathy for the relatives of those who fell and for those who had suffered wounds.

Mr. Lemieux.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, in supporting the motion, and speaking in French, said:

"Reproaches were made against the French-Canadians because it was claimed they had not enlisted as freely as citizens from other parts of Canada. I do not wish to discuss the merits of the foreigners against my fellow countrymen, but I do hope that when history is written it will render justice to the 25,000 or 30,000 French-Canadians who served in the Allied armies, who, although representing a race which had been separated from Europe and from France for three centuries, yet enrolled themselves to defend an ideal."

Mr. Lemieux urged that the Government should follow no policy of bitterness. The Prime Minister had attended the Peace Conference, where was enrolled the Society of Nations. But our first duty, Mr. Lemieux said, "before entering the Society of Nations, is to establish the society of Canadians. The policy should be one of tolerance, charity and fraternity."

In the Senate.

Ottawa, July 8.—A supply bill of $162,500,000 was voted by the Senate yesterday forenoon. The rejection by the Commons of Senate amendments to the sexual offences bill was read, and the Government bill respecting electric and power companies was ruled out of order. The Senate adjourned to meet at 2:45 for prorogation.

The effect of these actions is that the Government gets all the money it asked of Parliament this session, which Senator Bostock said was over $700,000,000. The age of consent in the offences bill remains at sixteen years. The Commons bill proposed to increase the age to eighteen in all cases where the girl had been previously virtuous and the man was over eighteen and in the case of employment and employees to the age of twenty-one.

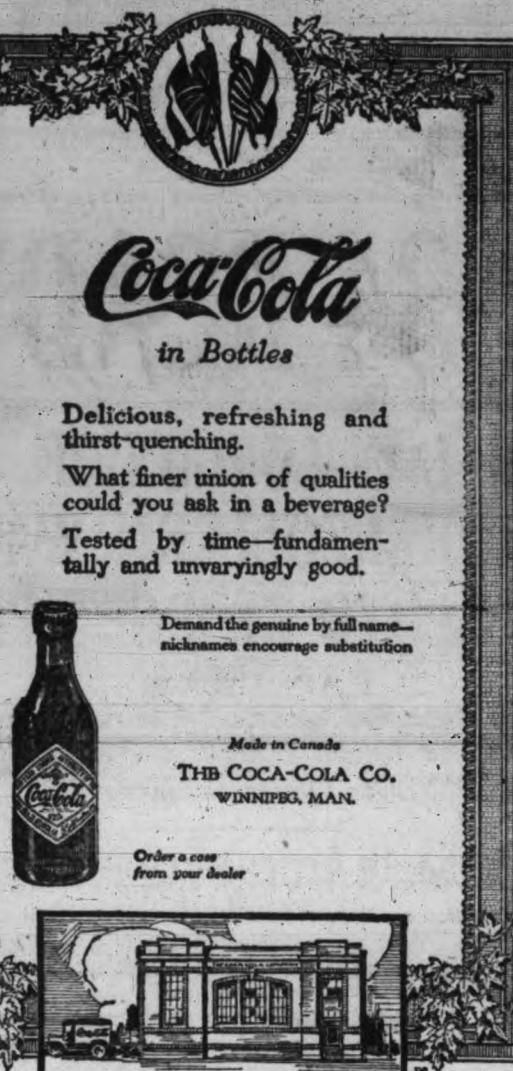

The amendment of the Senate was that where the man was not wholly or chiefly to blame for the offence, the judge might instruct the jury that a verdict to acquit could be found. The answer of the Commons to this amendment was that the question of "comparative culpability of the persons concerned can not be considered."

The non-concurrence of the Commons with the Senate on this point has had the effect of killing the whole bill for the session and leaves the age of consent fixed by the Criminal Code at sixteen years.

Siberian Commission. Ottawa, July 8.—The final report of the Canadian Trade Commission to Siberia was presented at a meeting of the Commission with Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, here on Saturday last. It is expected that the report, which contains a mass of information and facts of interest to Canadian manufacturers, who are extending their overseas trade, will shortly be printed for general distribution. Following the presentation of the report, the Commission was dissolved.

WOMAN KILLED BY SENTRY IN VIRGINIA

Newport, News, Va., July 8.—Mrs. Edward J. Shafer, of Williamsburg, Va., was killed yesterday when a sentry at Camp Alexander fired at an automobile in which she, her husband and two children were riding, in an attempt to halt the machine. Private Nichols, Company 1, 12th Infantry, the sentry, is charged with murder. He said he ordered the machine to stop when Shafer turned into one of the camp's side streets which was closed to visitors.

AN AMERICAN KILLED.

Prague, July 7, via London, July 8.—James Ceary, a secretary of the American F.M.C.A., was killed and an Italian aviator injured when a machine in which they were flying over Wyehead Bridge fell to-day. The pilot was doing circus tricks with the aeroplane and Ceary operating a moving picture apparatus when the plane fell and was wrecked.

CONSUL LEAVES VANCOUVER

Vancouver, July 8.—George N. West, American consul-general in Vancouver, has resigned from the consular service, and will leave the city Thursday morning for Washington, D.C. During his absence Consul Irving N. Linnell, who has been assistant to Mr. West for the past three years, will be in charge of the office until a permanent successor is appointed.

PROBLEM TO DISPOSE OF THE REMAINING GERMAN WARSHIPS

Paris, July 8.—The Commission of Admirals appointed to consider the disposition of the remaining German warships submitted its report to the Allied Council yesterday. In effect, the report states that no recommendations on the question are possible until certain matters of policy have been decided by the powers. The probability seems to be that the whole question will be finally referred to the Governments of the various powers concerned.

As the situation now stands, Japan and the United States are understood to favor breaking up or sinking the remaining warships. Great Britain approves the plan to break them up agreeing to their destruction conditionally, but if this plan is not carried out, insists upon having her share of the vessels in case they are divided among the powers. France opposes the destruction of the vessels and desires their distribution. Some of the smaller powers, notably Poland, approve the plan to destroy the vessels.

Caring for the Blind Soldier

Care of the blinded soldier is an important matter which has received consideration as one of the problems of demobilization in Canada. The greatest possible efforts have been made to establish such mediums of instruction for these men that their future will be one of bright and contented days, because each man will possess ability to follow a useful calling and thus provide himself with profitable occupation, serving the double purpose of minimizing disability and rendering himself economically independent.

In pursuance of the progressive plans of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, Captain E. A. Baker, Croix de Guerre, himself a blinded soldier of the recent war, is now on his way to England for the purpose of interviewing all Canadian blinded soldiers yet in hospital there, and of visiting those who are receiving instruction, or who have completed instruction and re-adaptation training and are settling down to a new life in the Old Land.

In addition Captain Baker will make himself familiar with all new methods of instruction and training with a view to the adoption here of such plans as may suit the conditions prevailing in the Dominion.

Captain Baker is in himself a remarkable example of the "victory of mind over disability." Blinded as a result of wounds received while serving in France with the Canadian Engineers, his re-adaptation training has so fitted him for the workaday world that he took charge of that exceedingly important branch of the activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment which has care of the blinded soldiers and achieved a complete success from the administrative viewpoint, as well as that of the blinded soldiers who have undertaken courses of instruction.

Of Captain Baker Sir Arthur Pearson, the blind founder and director of St. Dunstan's for blinded soldiers, London, declared that he "became the most proficient blind boy I ever met or ever expect to meet. He re-adapted himself with the most extraordinary skill. He went back into the employ of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, at Toronto, and I heard the principals of that great concern tell how excellently Captain Baker was doing. He left their employ because he was asked by the Canadian Government to look after the blinded Canadian soldiers returning home."

The case of Captain Baker is but one concrete example of the benefits of re-training for the blinded soldiers. In this connection it may be stated that there are blinded men who, because of this re-adaptation training, are now earning and receiving more money than they did when in possession of sight. Some critics may scoff at the statement, but the facts are incontrovertible.

When it had been shown that re-adaptation training of a practical nature was possible the plan was at once adopted in Canada. For the purpose of dealing with the blinded soldiers the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment made use of the existing facilities at St. Dunstan's in London, together with the existing institutions for training and care of the blind already established in Canada, which included the Halifax Association for the Blind conducted by Sir Frederick Fraser, the Montreal Association for the Blind conducted by Dr. Milton L. Hersey, the Ottawa Association for the Blind conducted by Mr. J. L. Payne, and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind with headquarters in Toronto, which institution has also provided an organization for the provision of after-care. The primary objects of this institution are to provide comprehensive training for those Canadian blinded soldiers who have not been to, or did not wish to attend St. Dunstan's, and to provide some system whereby all blinded soldiers who settle in Canada should be kept in touch with, as far as possible, for the rest of their lives. The Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment has done much to foster this movement from its inception.

For this work "Pearson Hall" was opened at Toronto by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. This place has been fitted up to provide board and lodging accommodation as well as training facilities at the expense of the department. It is a large family residence standing in spacious grounds. Blind instructors have also been secured, and they are invaluable. The plan recognizes the fact that the individual living instruction was but recently in the same position as himself, he realizes that the instruction will be practical, and also that he is not being asked to do something that has not been done before by those laboring under the same handicap. He is at once fired with the ambition to do the thing as well as the other fellow. This mental stimulus cuts down the period of training greatly. Also by re-adaptation training, and by impressing each man with the idea that he has but to overcome a handicap which has been imposed, a more cheerful and ambitious bearing is induced.

To increase confidence, attention must be paid not only to work but to recreation and sports. By occupying every moment of spare time the man's mind is not permitted to dwell on his limitations and he is rendered capable of taking part in games and sports particularly suitable. A man learns by experience, and through various forms of sport is taught to be self-reliant and confident in his movements. The range of subjects taught to blinded soldiers is divided into three classes: general re-adaptation education, vocational and avocational side-lines. Included in these are typewriting, massage, business courses, carpentry, poultry farming, basket-making, etc. Men are from the beginning taught to read and write by the Braille method. Every man who has made good progress is presented with a diploma on graduation, and with this he can record his own notes for future reference and attend personally to his private and business papers.

Provision has been made for the after-care of blinded soldiers who come under the department. By this means it is possible to see that proper use is made of the training and that the men have become the self-supporting and independent individuals they were intended to be and for which they have been equipped.

The number of Canadians who are reported to be suffering from blindness and defective eyesight so far discharged from the Canadian army is 1,345, of whom 108 have been or are being trained, while others will be given an opportunity to enter the courses. As many of these men are yet in England it is for the purpose of inducing others to take up training that Captain Baker has proceeded abroad.

RUSSIAN VOLUNTEERS SUFFER A REVERSE

Copenhagen, July 7.—Via London, July 8.—The Estonian Bureau announces that the Russian volunteer army which has been advancing toward Petrograd has suffered a reverse. The volunteers have been obliged to abandon successively the fortresses of Krasnaya Gorka, opposite Kronstadt, the town of Kopenka and several stations in railway. The Bureau says that the Russian volunteers are now in full retreat.

LONDON TRIAL OF EX-KAISER OPPOSED

Some of London Newspapers
Now Are Arguing Against Plan

London, July 8.—Strong opposition continues to develop in the press against the project of trying the former German Kaiser in London, or trying him at all. Paris dispatches say that the United States and Japan are opposed to the trial and that Italy is lukewarm apparently have had an effect on sentiment here.

Liberal newspapers, such as The Manchester Guardian, The Westminster Gazette and The Daily News, are leading the way, with a part of the Conservative press taking the same view, that it would tend to make the ex-Kaiser a martyr among the Germans prolonging the passions of war and upset the life of London. It is also said that the former Kaiser's arrival here might cause unpleasant incidents. The Evening Standard, Conservative, opposes the plan because "there are practical difficulties in arranging the quarters for the prisoners and the place of trial, and there is an unpleasant suggestion of a paper triumph in the project. If there must be a state trial, it should not take place in London or any other great business centre."

In Obscurity.
The Westminster Gazette is one of those holding that the best punishment for the ex-Kaiser would be to leave him in obscurity, and The Times gives prominence to a letter from Sir Valentine Chirol, its foreign editor, expressing a fear that a trial might create a "Hohensohn legend like the Napoleonic legend of war and the Great Britain odium in Germany and in some neutral countries, and if the prosecution should fail it would mean ridicule.

The trials of some minor offenders are expected to begin in August. These will include commanders guilty of violations of naval warfare by the operations of submarines, those who directed the bombardment of open towns, and officers in command of prison camps who mistreated captives in their charge.

Wilson Knew.
Paris, July 8.—The question of the trial of former Kaiser Wilhelm was on the programme for discussion by the Council of Three for several days while President Wilson was still in Paris. Reuters Paris bureau declares in an article regarding statements by the members of the American peace mission that Mr. Lloyd George's statement on the subject in the British House came as a surprise to them. The agency declares it is known President Wilson had expressed himself strongly as to the plan for the holding of the trial, and it asserts there is every reason to believe he was fully cognizant of the decision to try the ex-Kaiser in London.

SOKOLOWSKI VERDICT GIVEN IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, July 8.—That Mike Sokolowski came to his death during a riot on Saturday, June 21, as the result of receiving a wound through the heart from a bullet fired by a person unknown, was the verdict of the coroner's jury sitting on the case last evening. The verdict added that the evidence showed that a number of shots were fired by rioters, and there was nothing to indicate that the shot which killed Sokolowski was fired by the police.

NO SECOND TRIALS

Los Angeles, July 8.—Twenty-six members of the International Bible Students' Association, tried recently in the United States district court here on a charge of violating the Espionage Act by publishing and distributing an alleged seditious publication, The Kingdom News, will not be tried a second time, instructions having been received by District Attorney James R. O'Connor from Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer, to dismiss the actions. The jury failed to agree at the first trial. Among the defendants to the action were Ernest D. Sexton, W. Homer Lee and Scott Anderson.

CROWD OF 15,000 AT SCOTTISH SCHOOL

Demonstration Caused by Cutting of a Little Girl's Hair

Aberdeen, Scotland, July 8.—The parents of children attending an elementary school here have shown their resentment against the action of the authorities in cutting off the hair of girl pupils by an attack on the school. Armed with missiles, a large crowd of men, women and children gathered near the school, it being understood that the doctor was about to apply the scissors to other pupils. However, it was impossible to convince the crowd that the doctor had left earlier in the day, whereupon the school windows were wrecked and damage amounting to more than $1,000 was caused. Forty policemen were required to keep order in the crowd, which was estimated at 15,000.

DUNCAN LODGE IS TO VISIT NANAIMO

Duncan, July 8.—The Duncan lodge of the Knights of Pythias will visit Nanaimo soon to assist in conferring the rank of knighthood in the order on several candidates. This will be the result of a visit paid the Duncan lodge by the Nanaimo lodge last Saturday evening, when seventy-five from Nanaimo came and assisted in conferring the rank of knighthood on a number of local and Chemainus candidates. Many of the fraternity from Chemainus also were present. After the initiation the gentlemen repaired to the supper room, where a banquet was spread and a number of lady friends were present. In the lodge room afterwards the whole party thoroughly enjoyed an impromptu musical programme, which lasted until 1:30 a. m.

Cowichan G. W. V. A.
There will be a general meeting of the Cowichan branch of the G. W. V. A. at Chemainus on Saturday next. The Misses Charlton, of Victoria, have spent a few days in Cowichan visiting their brother, A. L. Charlton, of Soanens.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley and two sons are spending the summer in Cowichan.

In India.
Letters have been received stating that Mrs. B. A. Rice has arrived safely in India after long delays in Japan and Hongkong. Col. Rice, who was recovering from fever, was able to meet her at Bombay.

Major Sheridan Rice, who was wounded some time ago, will be invalided home.

Both brothers, through their knowledge of the native races, have been able to render distinguished service both in India and in Mesopotamia. On the outbreak of the war they had been but a few months in Cowichan, and were called back to their old regiments.

Col. and Mrs. Barnes have been back from England to their home at Westholme for the past three weeks.

Pte. J. C. Somerville, who has been home for some weeks, has been obliged to return to hospital in Victoria for treatment.

PLOT OF ANARCHISTS FOILED IN ROME

Rome, July 8.—An anarchist plot to attack the central part of Rome by means of hand grenades and other explosives was exposed by the arrest of sixteen of the conspirators four hours before the time fixed for carrying out the plans.

About the same time thirty anarchists motored to Fort Pratolara, four miles from Rome, and tried to induce the garrison to join in an attack on the Rome market place. The soldiers fired on the anarchists and seized several. The others fled.

KIDNAPPING CHARGED AT DOUGLAS, ARIZ.

Douglas, Ariz., July 8.—Charges were filed to-day against more than seventy-five persons alleging kidnapping in connection with the deportation of some 1,100 alleged members of the I. W. W. and sympathizers from Bisbee, on July 12, 1917. Robert N. French, county attorney of Cochise County, has charge of the prosecutions.

THE DIRECT LEGISLATION LAW.

Naturally the decision of the Privy Council that the direct legislation law in Manitoba is unconstitutional has prompted the legal authorities of the other provinces where similar laws exist to review those measures and institute comparisons with the disqualified Manitoba statute.

British Columbia has a direct legislation law, passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature, but until the text of the Privy Council's decision on the Manitoba measure has been received, it is impossible to ascertain whether this statute is affected or not.

There is, however, a marked difference between the Manitoba law on direct legislation and that of British Columbia, in numerous important particulars. According to the Manitoba statute any electors representing not less in number than eight per cent. of the total votes polled in the previous general election may submit by petition a proposed law to the Legislative Assembly within two weeks after the commencement of any regular session.

If the Speaker decides that the petition has been properly submitted the proposed law, unless the Legislative Assembly itself adopts it, shall be referred to a vote of the electors of the Province to be taken at the next provincial election. If a majority of the electors approve of the law it shall take effect, subject to the same powers of veto and disallowance as are provided in the B. N. A. Act or as exist in law with respect to any act of the Legislative Assembly, "as though such law were an Act of the said Assembly," on a date to be proclaimed by the Lieut. Governor-in-Council and published in The Manitoba Gazette.

Thus, under the Manitoba Act, a proportion of the electors may submit a bill to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly which may be either passed by the Legislature, or referred to the electors by the Government; and if a majority of the electors vote for the bill it may be translated to the statutes of the Province, "as though such law were an Act of the Legislative Assembly," which is to say, without having been enacted by the body charged by the B. N. A. Act with this specific function and possibly without requiring the assent of the Crown.

In other words, the Legislature may delegate its functions, as fixed by the constitution, to the electors, as far as bills originating under the direct legislation law are concerned. The Legislature, it is true, may adopt any measure submitted to it by petition without making any essential changes, and in that case it does not have to go to popular vote, but it probably is the provision for the very radical alternative course we have just referred to which vitiates the measure in the eyes of the Privy Council.

There are other radical provisions in the Manitoba measure, one of which permits bills providing for capital expenditure under $100,000 to be initiated by the electors, while another specifies that no Act of the Legislative Assembly shall take effect until the expiration of three months after the termination of the session at which the Act was passed except in cases of emergency to be determined by a two-thirds majority of the Assembly.

The British Columbia direct legislation law is infinitely less sweeping. Twenty-five per cent. of the electors who voted in the previous general election may submit a bill by petition to the Legislative Assembly which may be promptly passed without material change by the Assembly or submitted to a vote of the electors instead. If the electors approve the proposed law it must be enacted by the Legislature at its next session. Thus, in any case a measure submitted by petition must be passed by the Legislature and, like every other bill, receive the assent of the Crown before it can become law.

Further, the British Columbia Legislature, in declining to enact a bill originating with the public, may submit a measure of its own for popular vote in competition with the one received on petition. It is bound, however, to pass at its next session the particular bill approved by the electors, without any changes affecting the principle of it. No proposed bill may be submitted on petition from the public or will be considered by the Legislature which provides for the appropriation of any part of the public revenue or of any tax or impost—another important point in which the British Columbia measure differs from the Manitoba law.

LET HIM BE TRIED.

A campaign appears to have been started in the Old Country against the decision of the Peace Conference to try William Hohenzollern for a supreme offence against humanity and international law, and a number of prominent newspapers of various political stripes have expressed disapproval of the proposal.

The chief arguments advanced against the trial is that it would tend to make the ex-Kaiser a martyr among the German people, and prolong the passions of war. The Evening Standard sees difficulty in arranging the quarters for the prisoners, and it is also said that the Kaiser's arrival in London might cause unpleasant incidents. Sir Valentine Chirol, the foreign editor of The Times, fears that a trial might create a "Hohenzollern legend like the Napoleonic legend and bring upon Great Britain odium in Germany. . . . and if the prosecution should fail it would mean ridicule."

Without considering the great moral, political and international phase of this particular question for the moment, it is difficult to contemplate the ex-Kaiser as a martyr among the German people except within the circle of the Junker element. It is difficult to see how the life of London would be materially upset or why there should be any cause for unpleasant incidents. The ex-Kaiser would reach England as an ordinary prisoner, guarded in the same way. There has been no suggestion of a suite of rooms at the Ritz with his comings and goings open to molestation by the first group of onlookers which may chance to catch a glimpse of him. He probably will be lodged in the Tower. It should be an easy matter for the international tribunal to agree upon the Old Bailey as a suitable place for trial.

Those newspapers which object to William's trial appear to lose sight of the fact that one of the great triumphs of the Peace Treaty is the erection of machinery on international authority to try and punish a ruling monarch for misdemeanors committed outside the territory over which he reigns. A monarch may do no wrong in his own country, but the day has passed when he may disturb the peace of the world, cross his frontiers and despoil at will, without incurring the risk of personal punishment. The ex-Kaiser placed himself in this criminal class in 1914 and his trial is set. Napoleon's case is not a parallel. Bonaparte was spirited away to St. Helena without a trial and the mere method of banishment constituted an advertisement of his power and intensified the Napoleonic legend in the minds of the French people.

With the ex-Kaiser the situation is altogether different. In the first place he is no Napoleon in any attribute and never can be the source of a "Hohenzollern legend" because he must always be remembered as the most unheroic figure of the war he began. Secondly, he will be given a fair trial and the trial, rather than any punishment that could be imposed upon him, will be the important thing on account of its moral significance and the new departure it initiates.

Whether the verdict will be a week picking oakum or a ten-year term of banishment on an Island in the Southern Pacific the fact will remain that there does exist a court composed of the democratic nations of the world pledged to the principle of punishment for international crime, be the culprit lowly cottager or ruling monarch. Henceforward a king may have no clemency except such as he may obtain within his own domain.

TRANS-PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY.

There will be a feeling of general satisfaction among good roads enthusiasts over the fact that the Dominion Highway legislation will be placed on the statutes before the House of Commons adjourns for the Fall session. There appeared to be at one time a disinclination on the part of the Government to hasten the bill through the House and it looked as if the whole question would be hung up.

The sum to be paid under the terms of the bill during the next five years is $20,000,000 and each Province will receive $10,000; the balance, however, will be divided on the basis of population subject to agreements between the Provincial and Federal Governments as to the highways to be built.

The construction of highways in British Columbia is a very important matter, and this is the only Province in Canada lacking a road linking its eastern and western boundaries. An autoist desirous of making the trip to Alberta by road all the way must cross to the States to do so. But apart from the purely tourist point of view a through road across the Province is a sound economic proposal, and considerably less than $1,000,000 would complete the unbuilt link through the Fraser Canyon route.

THE BIRTH OF THE G. W. V. A.

On a certain day in May, 1916, eleven Victorians met in an unfurnished, candle-light room on Douglas Street. Each man had fought in France and had been wounded. The little band named itself the Returned Soldiers' Association, and to start a fund each contributed one dollar. It was in these circumstances that the G. W. V. A. came into being, and the birth of that small body in Victoria in 1916 was the birth of the great organization which held its Dominion Convention in Vancouver last week.

It was fitting that Colonel Purney, the Dominion President of the G. W. V. A., should have referred in his address before the Canadian Club yesterday to the origin of the Association over which he presides. It is interesting to note also that the first resolution passed by the eleven pioneers on that memorable May night is observed to-day in all branches of the organization. It provided that before the commencement of all meetings members should rise and pay silent tribute to the memory of fallen comrades. During the last three years Victorians have watched with interest the progress made by the local branch—progress which is strikingly demonstrated by the fact that the organization has its own member in the Legislature.

THE GERMAN PEACE.

If sufficient sentiment should develop among the democratic nations to save the ex-Kaiser from trial one of the most important pieces of international machinery created by the Peace Conference would automatically descend to the junk heap. What would have happened if Germany had been victorious? Here is the answer:

"The Entente must be made to pay all Germany's war costs, including the cost of German armaments for the next 40 years, amounting to about £20,000,000,000—part to be paid in raw materials and by the surrender of half the Entente's merchant fleets, and seizure of all private and public property in the annexed territories."—The ex-Kaiser in July, 1917.

"Germany must obtain control not only of Belgium, but of the whole French coast from Dunkirk to Boulogne, with the possession of the Channel Islands; the pines of French Lorraine must pass under German control. The indemnities must provide for full reimbursement of war costs; payment for all damage caused by the war; the redemption of all German State debts; the creation of a large fund for (German) victims of the war."—Herr Erbsberger.

THEIR STATE OF MIND

(New York Telegram)

The state of mind of the German people has, in spite of the revolution and defeat, remained the same. One might almost say the German point of view is worse than ever. Not only are the German people as far from any recognition of the true situation as they were before the revolution, but everything is being done to make it impossible for the Allies to trust them and to make it as difficult as possible for the Allies to give them easy peace terms.

SEAPLANE FLYING
ACROSS PACIFIC TO STOP AT VICTORIA

Machine Is Leaving Los Angeles on 7,200-Mile Trip to Shanghai

Considerable interest will be evinced at the announcement that Victoria is to be a stopping place for the big sea plane which is to attempt the trans-Pacific flight. The G. D. White Aviation Co., of Los Angeles, Cal., plans to send a machine across the pond. A prize of $50,000 has been offered for the first heavier-than-air machine to bridge the great aerial gap between this continent and the Orient.

The White Aviation Co. has been experimenting with aeroplanes and seaplanes for some time, and have designed a craft which they firmly believe will succeed in crossing. It is a monoplane, and is engine-driven with three Hispano-Suiza motors, which develop a total of 550 horsepower. The centre engine is slightly in advance and lower than the wing engines. The machine measures 72 feet from wing tip to wing tip and is 39 feet from nose to tail. When empty the machine weighs 3,600 and when loaded 7,900 pounds.

Terrific Speed.
As a result of being heavily powered and of light construction the plane will be capable of making 155 miles an hour, but it is expected that on her long cruise she will not average more than 100 miles an hour. She will be able to remain aloft for six hours. The machine offers less air resistance through having only one plane.

The crew will consist of five men, including two pilots, one wireless operator, one navigator and a moving picture man. The machine is so built that two pilots can sit side by side and can relieve one another, which is a great advantage when men are forced to undergo such terrific nervous and physical strains. Every arrangement is being made to give the movie man a good opportunity to record the flight, and the pictures will be in great demand all over the world.

Will Travel 7,200 Miles.
The seaplane will travel approximately 7,200 miles. The route mapped out is as follows:
Los Angeles to San Francisco, 450 miles.

San Francisco to Victoria, 750 miles.
Victoria to Sitka, Alaska, 650 miles.
Sitka to Unalakleet, 1,200 miles.
Unalakleet to Koryakovsk, Kamchatka, 1,500 miles.
Koryakovsk to Yokohama, 1,400 miles.
Yokohama to Shanghai, 1,250.

The Aerial League of Canada is in touch with the White Aviation Co., and is affording every co-operation. It will provide all the charts, meteorological information possible and attend to the supplying of gasoline, on and provisions.

ORDERS PASSED FOR SETTLEMENT AREAS

Prince George and Marten Lake Areas Represent 37,000 Acres

DEVELOPMENT WORK AT
COURTENAY GOING WELL

In connection with the establishment of land settlement areas at Prince George and Marten Lake the necessary Orders-in-Council have now been passed by the Executive Council, and according to a statement made to The Times representative this morning by the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, the appraisals are also complete, having been carried out by Director D. D. Munro and surveyors of the Provincial Land Settlement Board. The thirty days' advertising required by statute has similarly commenced.

Land Available Soon.
The Minister stated that not all of the 23,000 acres of the Prince George area and the 14,000 acres of the Marten Lake area would be immediately available. It might be necessary, he said, to secure title from the present holders through powers invested in the Board. However, land for settlement purposes should be available in these cases by August 15.

In connection with the development work being carried on by the Department, M. H. Nelems, chairman of the Land Settlement Board, said upon his return from the Courtenay area yesterday that the soldiers' organized settlement in that district was in a satisfactory condition. The erection of temporary houses had provided homes for the families of many of the men and the work of clearing was progressing well.

Work Finished.
In this particular connection he referred to the work of Lieut. A. F. Walker, one of the Empress of Asia scheme sponsors, in selecting the site for the new farm as having been practically completed. No finer citizens could be desired, said Mr. Nelems, than those chosen to co-operate in the development of the area. It was the intention of the chairman to arrange for Lieut. Walker to carry on similar work in respect of other settlement areas in the meantime the development work at Courtenay is in charge of Captain G. T. Rant and under the general supervision of Director J. A. MacDonald.

BACK AGAIN.

Isaac wished to consult a physician and asked a friend to recommend one. "And what does he charge?" asked Isaac, making a note of the doctor's name.
"Five dollars for the first visit, three dollars for succeeding calls," was the reply.
Half an hour later Isaac entered the physician's office and gave this greeting: "Good morning, Doctor, I'm back again."

Hon. John Hart Highly Pleased With Financial Market

EAST HAS CONFIDENCE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

"I do not think any better proof could be given of the standing of British Columbia in the eyes of the financial world and the investing public than the news which has come to me this morning," said Hon. Mr. Hart, "that the bonds of our latest loan, floated ten days ago, have already been taken up by investors."

"I consider that we received a very good price on the basis of 5.55 per cent per annum, which, in view of the fact that it is reported that the Dominion loan in New York of $75,000,000 will be at least five and three-quarter per cent, is another indication that our securities are in demand."

"Some of the reasons for the improved credit of the Province, which is even better than I found it on my last trip East, are the handling by the Government of the P.G.E. Railway situation, the proof given by this Government that its policy is to keep current expenditure within the revenue, and the fact that all our sinking funds have been kept up to the full figure out of ordinary revenue."

"In eastern cities I noticed that much more interest is being taken in British Columbia, and it was the general opinion of all those with whom I talked that greater strides will be made by this Province in the line of development now that the war is over, our men are returning home, and the people as a whole are devoting themselves to the hard work of meeting post-war conditions."

Speaking of the Premier, the Minister remarked that he is looked upon as being somewhat of a Canadian Lloyd-George, and it is generally admitted by financiers and business men that he is making good in the cleaning up process. Confidence in his ability and integrity is well grounded and constantly increasing. The future of the Province, under his careful guidance and with the assistance of the members of the present Cabinet it is believed could be in no safer hands.

SPEAKS OF NEEDS OF HOSPITAL TO-DAY

Dr. M. T. MacEachern Addresses B. C. Hospitals Convention Here

Organization, facilities and case records, were the three great principles of hospital standardization, according to Dr. M. T. MacEachern, who in addressing the B. C. Hospital Association Convention at the opening session in the Empress Hotel ballroom this morning, spoke of the needs of the public hospital of to-day.

It was necessary, he said, that a more intimate relationship should be built up between hospital institutions and the public in whose interests the hospitals were built, and in this connection he emphasized the fact that the convention is open to all who are in any way interested in such matters. During the three days' sessions in Victoria he said important decisions would be made concerning the future policy and the carrying on of hospital work in British Columbia. The excellent ideals of the association should always be kept in mind, and every effort made to achieve the aims for which it was formed, the particulars of which have already been published.

A new era is rapidly looming up following the changed conditions brought about by the war, Dr. MacEachern said. The demands of society to-day make it essential that hospital be established in all communities of a population of 2,500 or over, and in some cases less, said the speaker.

"The successful development of any hospital depends on certain conditions and factors, the chief of which are: The governing board, the executive head, the auxiliaries, the public, the press and the institution itself, each of which was spoken of individually as to its effect upon the hospital development of the country," said the Doctor, president of the association.

Dr. MacEachern spoke of the unjust criticism often directed against hospitals, pointing out that many institutions had to face absurd accusations for which there was absolutely no foundation.

Davenport or Bed—

Here is a handsome piece of furniture that fills this double role in a most satisfactory manner. It is made of solid oak in fumed or golden finishes and the covering is of stout imitation Spanish leather. The action is strong and easily operated. When closed there is ample room for mattress and pillows inside.

For the modern apartment where space is limited this is an ideal piece of furniture. Inexpensively priced at

FLYERS WILL LEARN
POSITION BY BEAMS

British Invent Wonderful New Transmitter; Will Greatly Assist Aviators in Fog

Of the many developments in wireless revealed by G. G. G. Isaacs in a recent address in London, the most wonderful is a new transmitter which projects into the air a wide divergent beam like a searchlight, without the light.

These beams will convey to the man in the skies the name of the place, he is passing over. He receives the signal "This is Guildford," and he will continue to receive that signal so long as he is over Guildford and no longer. If he is passing over Windsor Forest he will be told "This is Windsor Forest," and if he comes to his aerodrome the beam signals "This is Hendon aerodrome."

In that way, said Mr. Isaacs, one of the greatest dangers to pilots in fog and in darkness will have been disposed of. It wanted but little imagination to see that in a little while hence some thousands, tens of thousands, of planes projected into the skies so that, names may travel, the passenger is being automatically told where he is. It will be as easy to tell in the skies where you are as to see where you are when travelling in a railway train. Similarly, these beams can be equipped to lightships or buoys in the sea where you are as to see where you are when exactly where one is.

Dealing with other developments of wireless, Mr. Isaacs said that a passenger travelling across the Atlantic by boat would never again be out of touch with one or other of two coast stations. Ships would in future be able to telephone and telegraph either to ships at sea or to the coast without any possibility of interference. It would also be possible to equip a vessel with an apparatus which would give its exact position in dense fogs. It would not only be able to ascertain the approach of another ship, but it would also learn approximately and near enough for its purpose the distance of that ship, in the same way, the whole coastline could be equipped with apparatus which would give to a ship at sea the approximate distance of the coast and its position.

Airman's Direction Finder.
There was to-day a simple means by wireless of communicating from aeroplanes or aeroplanes with other machines, with ships at sea, and with the land. And there was also a wireless direction finder, which enabled the pilot to ascertain approximately where he was.

As for the land, there was no reason why there should not be wireless telegraph and telephone services between all the principal centres in the country. There was a great advance in wireless telephony, indeed, he regarded it as an epoch-making invention. The message transmitted could be heard only by those by whom it was intended to be heard, without possibility of "tapping" or interception.

WILL RE-BUILD LINES
WRECKED IN WAR TIME

France will spend about 4,000,000,000 francs on new public works, besides about 3,000,000,000 francs for the rebuilding of railroads in the devastated regions, the Associated Press was told recently by M. Clavelle, Minister of Public Works.

"Our programme," said the Minister, "calls for the electrification of 5,200 miles of railroad, the building of 3,500 miles of local road lines and tramways, the rebuilding of 6,000 miles of national roads, and about 60,000 miles of other highways that were ruined by the intensive army traffic or destroyed by mines and shell fire. We also have more than 2,000 bridges to rebuild, twelve tunnels that must be practically rebuilt, and a great many culverts to be replaced. I estimate the amount of material required for his work at ten million tons."

M. Clavelle explained that, although an army of roadworkers, reaching 78,000 men in 1918, had been employed constantly repairing roadways in the army zone, they were worn almost as fast as they were restored. The Germans tore up or blew up 2,600 miles of track on the northern railroad system and about 1,500 miles of the lines of the Eastern railroad, along with 2,000 miles of telegraph and telephone wires. These lines have already been restored in part. What remains to be done constitutes a formidable task. Lack of labor is all that is delaying work on these enterprises. Much of the required material was assembled during the last eighteen months of the war.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Clothes Horse

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
 (By Howard R. Garis.)

"Uncle Wiggily, are you going to be here in the hollow stump bungalow for a little while, or are you going out?" asked Nurse Jane. "The duck lady, the muskrat lady housekeeper, one morning."

"Oh, I can stay here a while, or go out and look for an adventure, at the same time going to the three and four cent store for you, if you wish me to," said the bunny politely.

"Well, if it's all the same to you, just stay here a little while," begged Nurse Jane. "I want to run over to see Mr. Wibblywobble, the duck lady, and take back the fatiron I borrowed of her to smooth my clothes."

Nurse Jane placed on the clothes horse, in the kitchen, some freshly ironed and folded sheets, pillowcases and bed spreads.

"Oh, I'll stay here until you come back," said Uncle Wiggily. "After that I'll go for a ride in my auto."

"Then if you're going to be here for a while I won't have to lock the doors," spoke the muskrat lady. "I wouldn't want any one to come and take my ironed clothes."

"I guess the clothes horse wouldn't let them do that," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Whoa, now! Be a good clothes horse!" he went on, pretending to pat the bed spread and sheets Nurse Jane had hung up to dry. "Don't run away with the pillow cases" cried the bunny.

"What a funny rabbit you are!" said the muskrat lady as she reached for the fatiron she was going to take back to Mrs. Wibblywobble, the duck lady. "A clothes horse is only made of wood, like a towel rack. It can't run away, or do anything."

"I know! I was only fooling!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But hang along, Nurse Jane. I'll stay here until you come back, and read my paper. And I won't let anyone touch your newly ironed clothes, nor yet let the wooden horse run away with them."

So the muskrat housekeeper went over to the duck lady's house, and Uncle Wiggily sat in the kitchen looking at the clothes horse. All covered with ironed sheets and bed spreads as it was the wooden rack did look a little like a pony wearing a blanket.

"But, of course, it isn't even a donkey, and can't even move by itself,"

Uncle Wiggily looked at the clothes horse which was now standing still. "Was it all a dream?" asked the bunny.

"No! I did it!" cried a jolly voice, and out from beneath a sheet and bed spread that hung over the clothes horse came little Wiggily, the guest boy.

"I came in the kitchen when you were asleep, Uncle Wiggily," said little Wiggily. "I hid myself among the clothes on the wooden horse and was going to play a trick on you when you woke up."

Social Personal

Dr. W. A. Thomson and daughter, of Regina, have arrived in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, of New York, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

J. Graham O'Neill, of the Oriental Club, London, is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. George Hall, and daughter Lucille, have left for California on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. H. J. Kaitenbach, and Henry Kaitenbach, Jr., of Yonkers, New York, are staying at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Curtis, of Bridgeport, Connecticut, Miss Curtis, and Miss De Goss, have arrived in the city.

Mrs. C. Oller, of Vancouver, is the guest of Mrs. T. Jones, "Dundalk," Rockland Avenue.

Signaller D. R. Dowdall, of the 55th Battery, has returned from the front, after three years service overseas, and is spending a couple of weeks with relatives in Ottawa before returning to the coast.

Mrs. Dalby Morkill, of Vancouver, and her mother, Mrs. McGuire, are spending a vacation in this city and are among the guests at "Rocabella," Quadra Street.

The Hon. J. W. deB. Farris and E. P. Davis, K.C., were guests of P. C. Ward, K.C., Agent-General for British Columbia, at an overseas Club luncheon given in honor of Lord Reading in London a few days ago.

Miss Ethel Gilroy, of the social service department of the Winnipeg General Hospital, has returned to the mainland after spending the winter in this city. She came to the Coast to attend the Dominion Nursing Convention and will leave for the east to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Higgins returned last night from an automobile trip of Vancouver Island as far as Campbell and Ford Rivers. During their ten days' trip they indulged in fishing, making some excellent catches. The return journey of 180 miles was made in the one day.

At St. Paul's Naval and Military Garrison Church, Esquimalt, yesterday, the Right Rev. the Bishop of Columbia solemnized the marriage of the Rev. W. Baugh-Allen, rector of St. Paul's Church, and Miss Margaret Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Gibson, of "Viewfield," Esquimalt Road.

Mrs. P. R. Bishop (nee Dorothy Davis), has returned to British Columbia from England, where she has been engaged in war work for some years, and will enjoy a well-earned rest at her country home at Cordova Bay.

Mrs. Bishop, who is the wife of Capt. P. R. Bishop of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, has been decorated with the Serbian Order of the Cross of Merit in recognition of her services to the refugees of that stricken country.

At St. Michael's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. C. R. Little officiated at the marriage of Capt. S. Morgan Hobbs, Imperial Tank Corps, youngest son of Henry Hobbs, of Brantford, Essex, and Isabel M. Oldfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oldfield, of Fleet, Hants, England.

The bride wore a smart suit of cream tulle and was given in marriage by her cousin, John H. Oldfield, the bridegroom being supported by E. R. Baugh-Allen, Esq.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to Norfolk Lodge, Elk Lake, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oldfield, and later left for Brentwood, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will take up residence at Oak Bay.

The church was beautifully decorated with sweet-smelling syringa and white spirea, and formed a pretty setting for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. G. H. Andrews. The bride's arm to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, made a winsome picture in her lovely gown of white tulle and georgette crepe.

Trimmed with silver, instead of the customary veil and orange blossoms, she wore a becoming picture hat of white georgette and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and bridal roses.

Miss Ottilie Planta was the only bridesmaid, attired in a pretty frock of silk poplin of a blue-bird shade with smart white picture hat and bouquet of pink roses with ribbon streamers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a delicious luncheon was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Watkins left for a honeymoon trip.

The bride travelled in a smart suit of white silk crepe with hat en suite, and will leave in two weeks' time for England to make their home in Devonshire.

SHAWNIGAN INSTITUTE

Miss Hansford, Late Dietitian of Manitoba Hospital, Gave Talk on Home Economics.

Miss Hansford, late dietitian of the Manitoba Hospital, was the chief speaker at the monthly meeting of the Shawnigan and Cobble Hill Women's Institute, held at Shawnigan on July 3.

She spoke briefly of the work in Home Economics carried on at Cornell University and explained the duties of a dietitian. Cornell University had been carrying on a splendid public service by sending a properly equipped train with demonstrators into the rural districts to impart instructions on Home Economics.

Also being started by the University, having for its aim the teaching to the people of the value of milk as a food for both adults and children. Miss Hansford expressed the opinion that the best means to keep the rural population in the rural districts was to place within their reach a higher education, an education which would teach them how to make the most of every-day things, by scientific knowledge and labor-saving devices.

Members of the Institute were appointed delegates to attend the annual school meetings in support of consolidation. A paper on Thrift Stamps was read at the meeting and led to much discussion. It was pointed out that thrift did not mean merely the buying of Thrift Stamps, but the utilization of the many things that lie to hand, one speaker reminding the meeting that dandelions make excellent substitute for spinach.

Beautiful Women of Society, during the past seventy years have relied upon it for their distinguished appearance. The soft, refined, pearly white complexion it renders instantly, is always the source of flattering comment.

Gourmet's Oriental Cream

But then in came the Skeezicks, and I played a trick on him by walking along, inside the sheet, and making him believe the clothes horse could move. It scared the Skeez all right!

"I should say it did!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I thought it was a fairy clothes horse!" And if the feather duster doesn't tickle the piano and make it play with the front door key, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Squeakie-Eekie.

GARDEN FETE TO-MORROW

Well-known Artists to Sing at Navy League Chapter's Garden Party; Many Attractions.

Barton will be the vocalists in the very attractive programme arranged by Miss Irene Long in connection with the garden party to be held to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of the Navy League Chapter, I. O. D. E. The fete will be staged in the lovely old gardens at the residence of Mrs. David Doh, of the corner of Fairfield Road and Cook Street.

Other local talent assisting in the entertainment will be the Misses Lorraine Wootton, Sylvia Appleby, Molly Hibbs, and Hilda Langton in classic and Oriental dances, while instrumental numbers will be contributed by a six-piece ukulele orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Cochrane.

In addition to the entertainment, visitors will find much to please them at the attractive booths where will be sold candy, home-cooking, fancy work, flowers, and "superfutilities." Ice cream and tea will be served throughout the afternoon from three till six.

No effort has been spared by the energetic committee to insure the enjoyment of patrons, and given fine weather the event should prove one of the most delightful of the midsummer fetes. The proceeds will be devoted to the carrying on of the chapter's estimable work for the sailors and their dependents.

But then in came the Skeezicks, and I played a trick on him by walking along, inside the sheet, and making him believe the clothes horse could move. It scared the Skeez all right!

"I should say it did!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I thought it was a fairy clothes horse!" And if the feather duster doesn't tickle the piano and make it play with the front door key, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Squeakie-Eekie.

Uncle Wiggily looked at the clothes horse which was now standing still. "Was it all a dream?" asked the bunny.

"No! I did it!" cried a jolly voice, and out from beneath a sheet and bed spread that hung over the clothes horse came little Wiggily, the guest boy.

"I came in the kitchen when you were asleep, Uncle Wiggily," said little Wiggily. "I hid myself among the clothes on the wooden horse and was going to play a trick on you when you woke up."

DOUBLE WEDDING AT CLOVERDALE TO-DAY

Two Daughters of Rev. J. W. Flinton Wed Returned Soldiers

Two sisters were the brides at a very pretty double wedding solemnized at St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, at 12.30 to-day, when Miss Winifred May Flinton, second daughter of the Rev. J. W. Flinton, vicar of St. Mark's, and Mrs. Flinton, was married to Henry Pratt Allbery, formerly of Saanich, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Allbery, of Sittingbourne, Kent, England, and Miss Hilda Mary Flinton, youngest daughter of the Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Flinton, formerly a nurse of St. Joseph's Hospital, became the bride of Frederick J. Merriman, Sporting Editor of The Times, and second son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Merriman, of San Francisco.

Ladies of the congregation decorated the church with pink and white flowers, and fashioned the artistic archway at the chancel steps. The edifice was filled with a large congregation, including many friends from Saanich, where the brides' family formerly resided. Both bridegrooms are veterans of the war, Mr. Allbery having gone overseas with the 30th Battalion in 1915 and saw four years' service in France as a staff-sergeant with the 15th Battalion and at the 3rd Infantry Brigade headquarters. Mr. Merriman came from California to enlist early in 1915, going overseas with the 16th Battalion and was severely wounded at Vimy Ridge.

Rev. J. W. Flinton officiated at the ceremony and the service was fully choral. Mrs. S. H. Brake presiding at the organ. The girl-brides, who were given in marriage by their brother, Austin Flinton, were gowned alike in lovely frocks of white crepe-de-chine, with flowing veils of snowy tulle and each carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. They were attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Flinton, their sister, daintily gowned and carrying a sheaf of pink carnations. Eric Flinton, brother of the bride, officiated as best man for both couples.

After the ceremony the bridal couples returned to St. Mark's Vicarage, where a reception was held, attended only by relatives, god-parents and friends of the bride and bridegroom's from in-laws. Later Mr. and Mrs. Allbery and Mr. and Mrs. Merriman left on their respective honeymoon trips.

MADAME SIGNE LUND, NOTED COMPOSER, HERE

Is Best Known of Scandinavian Woman-Composers Now Living

A distinguished visitor to Victoria has been staying with Mrs. Tolsen, Prospect Avenue, during the past week. Madame Lund was an honored guest at the garden fete given by the Victoria Ladies' Music Club, on Saturday afternoon.

Madame Lund has recently come to the Coast, and is hearty in her admiration of the beauties of Victoria which reminds her in great degree of her native Norway, "the most beautiful country in the world," as she describes it.

Those who were privileged to meet Madame Lund during her short visit were impressed by her charming personality, and glad to know that before many months an opportunity will be given to hear her in recital at Victoria.

A Musical Family.

She was born in Christiania, Norway, descending from a long time line of ancestors well known for their musical talent. Among them Ole Bull, the world renowned violinist and pianist, was related to Madame Lund on her father's side. Her mother was an eminent pianist and composer, and was largely responsible for the early musical training of her daughter.

When only four and one-half years old, Madame Lund composed her first piano pieces, and to-day her compositions vary from songs to the most pretentious orchestral selection.

At the age of sixteen years a number of her works had been published. Her remarkable talent for composition attracted the interest of the great Edward Grieg, and intimate family friend, at whose recommendation Madame Lund went to study with Wilhelm Berger.

Leaving Germany, where she played her own compositions for many famous artists, she returned to Norway, and was chosen to compose the festival overture for King Oscar's and Queen Sophia's Jubilee. That year she took part in a series of concerts in Stockholm, being presented to the King of Sweden.

Thanked by Ibsen.

The following year, 1898, she was chosen to compose a cantata for solo chorus and orchestra, in honor of Henrik Ibsen's seventieth birthday, receiving personal thanks from him for this work. The next year she concertized in London with her sister, Professor Unni Lund, and in 1899 she was again called to Copenhagen to conduct the Ibsen Cantata, both in public and at the King's Palace, at the request of Princess Marie.

The year 1900 found Madame Lund a resident of Paris, where she remained two years, devoting her time to composition, ending her stay by a concert assisted by famous artists of the grand opera, including the well known Madame Acte.

She then decided to make America her home. Since establishing her residence in this country, Madame Lund has made many trips to Europe and her birthplace, Christiania, where she was repeatedly received in private audiences by King Haakon, who expressed his interest in her work in America, where she stands as the most representative exponent of Norwegian composition.

Receives Gold Medal.

In 1914, Madame Lund was decorated with the gold medal "Pour le Merite," presented to her by King Haakon. Only a few other women can boast of this distinction.

Her latest triumph came in 1917, when on October 31, she was awarded a five-hundred dollar prize for the best war song entitled "The Road to France." The prize was given by the National Arts Club of America and six hundred composers competed.

Madame Lund speaks and coaches French, English, German, Dutch, Swedish, Norwegian and Danish songs, and although a composer of international fame, she specializes in the little known but beautiful Scandinavian songs.

Among the many who have been intimately connected with her and for whom she has acted as coach on Scandinavian literature, are Reinold Werrenrath, Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, Marie Sundellus and Marie Tiffany.

Frederick Stock, for so long the conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, speaks in eulogy of her fine musical attainments and original inventive powers. Many of the foremost Swedish, Danish and Belgian Opera singers speak of her as being the best exponent of the music of Scandinavia in the world to-day.

The coming of Madame Lund in Composer's Recital will be eagerly anticipated. Arrangements are at present being made for a series of these recitals to be given in the early fall in various Coast cities.

AND SHALL TRELAWNY DIE?

One of the ancestors of Hawker, the Australian aviator, was Robert Stephen Hawker, who wrote "The Song of the Western Men," sometimes called "And Shall Trelawny Die?" which follows:

A good sword and a trusty hand!
 And shall Trelawny die?
 King James' men shall understand
 What Cornish lads can do.

And they have fixed the where and when,
 And shall Trelawny die?
 Here's twenty thousand Cornish men
 Will know the reason why!

Out spake their captain brave and bold,
 A merry wight was he;
 With one hand all, and hand in hand,
 We'll set Trelawny free!

"We'll cross the Tamar, land to land—
 The Severn is no stay—
 With one hand all, and hand in hand,
 And who shall bid us nay?"

"And when we come to London Wall,
 A pleasant sight to view,
 Come forth! come forth, ye cowards all!
 Here's men as good as you."

"Trelawny, he's in keep and hold,
 Trelawny he may die,
 But here's twenty thousand Cornish bold
 Will know the reason why!"

VICTORIA MUST HAVE TWO YEAR COLLEGE COURSE

Senate Committee Is Told B. C. University Has Taken Away Former Advantages

COURSE WOULD LARGELY SOLVE PRESSING PROBLEM

Victoria is not getting a square deal from the British Columbia University. Victoria students have not derived advantages from the establishment of the provincial college, but have lost the advantages that they enjoyed before the B. C. University existed. Lamentably few Victoria students are attending the B. C. University chiefly because that institution has discontinued the two-year college course at the High School formerly allowed by McGill University. The re-establishment of that course, with text books and examinations identical with those of the first two years at the University instead of different as at present, would go a long way toward solving the present problem. The people of Victoria want that course re-established.

These in effect were the contentions which were laid before a committee of the Senate of the B. C. University last night by members of the Victoria School Board, and a large delegation representing the majority of the larger local public organizations and the people generally. The Senate Committee, composed of Professor Killam, William Burns, of the Provincial Normal School, E. B. Paul, Municipal Inspector, and Registrar Patterson will consider the arguments advanced and will lay them before the Senate when that body investigates the reason why less than ten Victoria High School students are attending the University.

Present Conditions Unsatisfactory.

The following resolution, which was adopted by the Victoria School Board, which sums up the whole situation and which sets forth Victoria's claims, was laid before the Senate Committee by Trustee Mrs. Spofford:

"Whereas the Victoria High School while affiliated with McGill University had the privilege of giving two years in arts identical with the same work done during the first two years at the institution of Montreal with the same text books and examinations, which arrangement was a great boon to Victoria students enabling them to secure these two years of university course at little expense while residing at their homes.

"And whereas this affiliation was discontinued when the University of British Columbia was established when a senior matriculation or first year or Arts was added to the High School.

"And whereas this arrangement has proved most unsatisfactory to such an extent that many Victoria students who wish to take a University course now go elsewhere than to the University of British Columbia and the much larger number are debarred from taking the course at all and there is little likelihood of any change in this respect.

"Therefore be it resolved that the Board of School Trustees of Victoria respectfully request the Senate of the University to grant to the High School affiliation with that University similar to that formerly enjoyed with McGill University with the privilege of giving the first two years in Arts, said two years to be identical with the same years given at the University as to text books, examination questions, and in all other respects."

Many Attended Under McGill

Investigation of conditions now, as compared with those that prevailed when a two-year university course affiliated with McGill University existed at the High School, said A. G. Smith, principal of that institution, showed an alarming dropping off of attendance. In 1908, continued Mr. Smith, ten students had attended the first year of the two-year course established here by McGill, and two the second year. Of these five had proceeded to McGill to complete their college training. This number steadily increased until in 1914 there were forty-seven students attending the first year and twenty-eight the second, of which eighteen ultimately went to McGill to conclude their course.

On the other hand, there were relatively few students attending the senior matriculation of first year college course here, and this fall to continue their work at McGill, instead of going to the provincial institution. And there are less than ten students altogether from the Victoria High School attending the B. C. University.

"I am convinced," Mr. Smith declared, "that more students would attend the B. C. U., however, if there was a two-year course. They would not be so likely to drop off when they were half through their course, and indeed, the figures which I have quoted regarding the attendance at McGill seems to bear this out. I asked the senior matriculation or first university class here how many of them—there were twenty-one—would proceed to the B. C. U. if the second year here were established. Eleven replied in the affirmative, but none of them care to go direct to the B. C. University. I am informed, too, that fifteen former High School students are going East this fall to continue their work at McGill, instead of going to the provincial institution. And there are less than ten students altogether from the Victoria High School attending the B. C. University."

Set Too High Standard.

As far as his students were concerned Principal Patterson, of the Esquimalt High School, was sure that the reason why so few attended the B. C. University was that they demanded an applied science matriculation examination which the provincial institution did not grant until they had taken in addition one year of arts at the university.

"I have many boys who want to take science and they simply won't take it," he said. "The standard is set too high."

is nothing to attract them to the B. C. University, no link to bind them with it more than to any other college.

Would Build Up Traditions.

"But if we had a two-year course here affiliated with the B. C. University," continued Mr. Smith, "we would be building up university traditions which would carry the students in preference on to the B. C. University. The second year course is infinitely more valuable than simply the first year, besides, even if the student were to go no further, he has that additional knowledge which he can secure at home and at little expense. This would be of excellent service in all professions. Again, from the standpoint of the curriculum of the second year it would be of more value on account of the subjects studied in that second year."

"I am convinced," Mr. Smith declared, "that more students would attend the B. C. U., however, if there was a two-year course. They would not be so likely to drop off when they were half through their course, and indeed, the figures which I have quoted regarding the attendance at McGill seems to bear this out. I asked the senior matriculation or first university class here how many of them—there were twenty-one—would proceed to the B. C. U. if the second year here were established. Eleven replied in the affirmative, but none of them care to go direct to the B. C. University. I am informed, too, that fifteen former High School students are going East this fall to continue their work at McGill, instead of going to the provincial institution. And there are less than ten students altogether from the Victoria High School attending the B. C. University."

Needs of Poor Students.

The whole situation was ably summed up by Trustee George Jay, one of the oldest members of the Victoria School Board and for many years its chairman. "The answer to the question why so few local students attend the provincial university," he began, "is simply that they prefer other colleges. And those who can afford to do so go elsewhere. But we must have in mind the needs of the less fortunate students who cannot afford to go long distances to colleges which, on account of their reputations and their superior equipment and attractions are attended by the more fortunate students."

Tracing the conditions which led up to the present alarming situation, Mr. Jay continued, "When the B. C. University was established the School Board always thought that the affiliation granted by McGill University would be continued by the provincial college. We were prepared to transfer our loyalty to the college of our own Province. Late in the summer of 1915, it was unanimously decided by a committee of the Board of Governors of the University, which considered the question of affiliation, that the course should be continued as it was under McGill at least for another year. But to our astonishment, the committee recommended to the Board of Governors that nothing of the sort be done. The members of the committee had evidently changed their mind. The two year course was discontinued on August 5, 1915. There were seventy students taking the course then. Those students, I say, were placed in a most unfortunate position by the sudden change in the course. The stand adopted by the Board of Governors at that time was most unfortunate," declared the speaker.

Deserve Consideration.

There were 7,200 students in Victoria and the three adjoining municipalities, Trustee Jay reminded the Senate Committee. "And he asserted, 'those students deserve sympathetic consideration by the British Columbia University which was established to meet the needs of the people of British Columbia, and incidentally the needs of its capital city.'"

Many students, the speaker thought, would take two years of university work at home and, feeling that half the battle was won, would secure employment for say two years until they had sufficient money to complete the other two years necessary for a degree. This practice had prevailed to a great extent when the two-year course affiliated with McGill had existed.

I have often heard Dr. Young, former Minister of Education, declare that he intended to take the university to the people," continued Trustee Jay. "That I take to mean that the institution was established not only for the sons and daughters of the wealthy but also to meet the claims of those less fortunate. This it could more readily do with a two-year course. And," he concluded, "it is obvious to us and must be so to you that the public, the people of Victoria are behind us in urging the extension of the present course."

While he quoted from the University Act to show that the proposed extension of the course was quite possible, Mr. Burns reminded the Trustees that the matter must be considered from a financial standpoint. To meet the needs of the second year, should it be established, additional teachers would have to be employed.

Staff Adequate.

"In 1915 our staff was quite large enough to undertake this work," answered Trustee Jay. "In fact, the University did us the compliment of taking into its faculty four of our teachers. Since that time the school has increased, it is true, so has the staff in proportion. That is merely a question of local adjustment."

On behalf of the Board of Trade,

Joshua Kingham, its ex-president, declared that it was not fair either to the students or the parents of Victoria that they should be robbed of the second university year at home.

University Taken Away.

"The University, which is supposed to be a provincial institution," declared Mr. Kingham, "is not being brought close to us. It is being taken away from us. And I do not think that it is fair to the Capital City of this Province that its parents should be forced to pay the expense of it for four whole years away from home."

Presenting the resolution from the School Board, already set forth, Trustee Mrs. Spofford contended that even if Victoria students took only the two year course at home they would be far better citizens than if they had no university training at all.

Miss Crease, President of the Local Council of Women, remarked that parents did not want to send their young children away from home even if they could afford to do so. If the two-year course were established here the children would not be forced to leave home until they were able to take care of themselves.

University Not Help But Detriment.

Perhaps the most striking sentence of the whole conference as uttered by Dr. Helen Ryan, representing the Women's Canadian Club, who said, "Not only is the University failing to help us, but it has taken away the privileges we had, the affiliated course with McGill."

Courses Now Different.

Another point important was advanced by Trustee Mrs. Andrews, who pointed out that at present the senior matriculation or first college course in Victoria was not identical with that at the University but was admittedly arts," observed the principal. "They naturally prefer to go to other universities where they don't have to take a year of arts in order to proceed with their science. If the B. C. University would meet us in this respect, would, in fact, establish the same system as prevails at such great institutions as McGill and Toronto Universities, I think it would get the students. But at present the B. C. University actually demands a higher standard by a whole year than is set by such colleges."

It was explained by Registrar Patterson, of the B. C. University, that, according to information received by him, McGill and Toronto Universities intended to set the high standard required by the provincial institution and to demand that science students take one year of arts before proceeding with their science course. This, he understood, would come about in two years.

Objection Answered.

In answer to this Principle Hope, of the Oak Bay High School, pointed out that McGill and Toronto Universities might decide before the end of those two years against raising their standards. Besides, he remarked, the B. C. University would be losing the students for two years in any case, which was in itself a consideration.

The fact that the B. C. University could not offer the same advantages to students desiring to study the professions, Mr. Hope thought, was one of the chief reasons for the small attendance of Victoria students at the institution.

Needs of Poor Students.

The whole situation was ably summed up by Trustee George Jay, one of the oldest members of the Victoria School Board and for many years its chairman. "The answer to the question why so few local students attend the provincial university," he began, "is simply that they prefer other colleges. And those who can afford to do so go elsewhere. Have The Maritimes Had Fair Play?

THE Maritime Provinces did not enter Confederation very willingly and it may surprise people in other parts of the Dominion to learn that at the present time the people of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are not altogether pleased with the results of the bargain. There is a distinct feeling among them that the advantages of Confederation have gone to the other Provinces. In the course of an article in the July issue of MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE, Thomas M. Fraser explains why this feeling has grown and the basis for it.

It is important that the people of Canada should know this because a wider understanding is necessary between East and West. Every Canadian should read "The Spirit of the Maritimes."

The July issue of MACLEAN'S has many points of unusual interest. Here are some of the other features:

Articles That All Canadians Should Read

"With the Snowball Brigade"

By Captain Lorne Keene

Just back from Siberia—Captain Keene tells some sensational and intensely gripping things about conditions in that country which the Canadian forces are helping to stabilize. It is a record of international complications, strange atrocities and almost unbelievable living conditions.

"Guarding Our Coast Line"

By Thomas M. Fraser

An extremely interesting description of the measures that were taken to patrol and guard the Atlantic seaboard during the war.

"The Four Tommies"

By Robert W. Service

A war poem of unusual strength.

"Solving the Problem of the Arctic"

By Vilhjalmur Stefansson

The fourth instalment of his remarkable story of the five years he spent in the North for the Canadian Government, appearing exclusively in MACLEAN'S.

"The Land of National Leaders"

By Thomas Mclellan

An article on the political aspect of the Eastern Provinces and the achievements of their leading statesmen.

Three Magnificent Stories

The best fiction obtainable is found in this issue: "Owners' Up," a race horse story, by W. A. Fraser; "His Majesty's Well Beloved," by Baroness Orczy; "Bunkered," by Allen C. Shore.

HUMANE TEACHING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Deputation from S. P. C. A. Waited on Minister of Education Yesterday

A delegation comprising Rev. Wm. Stevenson (Convener Educational Committee), Mrs. Andrews (Kito School Board), Miss Dora Kito (Sec. Educational Committee, S. P. C. A.) and Wm. Pease (Sec. S. P. C. A.), visited the Minister of Education yesterday to submit certain suggestions outlined by the Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals in connection with humane education in the Province.

The delegation received a favorable hearing, and the promise that the suggestions made would be laid before the Board of Education for consideration at an early date.

Miss Kito had prepared a report, a copy of which was before the Minister in which it was stated:

"There is no longer any doubt as to the value of such teaching and some of its greatest benefits include: (a) An increase in the material wealth of a community by economizing animal life. (b) The elimination of indescribable sufferings on the part of animals. (c) An increase in the moral wealth of a community generally because— (1) Humane education produces men and women of broader sympathies, more law-abiding and more valuable citizens. (2) It is fully recognized by all thinking persons that a right attitude towards the animal world does much to produce the right attitude towards fellow-human beings."

MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE.

The leading article in Maclean's Magazine for July is written by Capt. Louis Keene, who has recently returned from Vladivostok, and in a story entitled "With The Snowball Brigade" describes exactly what the "Canadians" did in "The Land of Nitchew" they did there. "The Land of Nitchew"—"nothing matters"—is certainly not an attractive country for tourists, but to the Canadian adventurous spirit who went over there nearly a year ago it must have made an interesting and exciting appeal. This is no fanciful story of life in Siberia, but describes conditions as they actually exist at the present moment.

Three articles in the July issue are devoted to the Maritime Provinces, and serve to enlighten the rest of the Dominion on some of the problems which are met with "down east." These articles are written by authors who know their subject and love the Maritime. They are entitled "The Spirit of the Maritimes," "The Land of National Leaders," "Guarding Our Coast Line."

A new serial by Baroness Orczy, the world-wide known author of romantic fiction, is entitled "The Three Tommies," illustrated by C. W. Jefferys.

A month's Vital Question discusses the labor-unrest situation and asks "Have we narrowly escaped Soviet government?" The answer is given in quotations from the national papers of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

COST OF LIVING HIGH IN ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

An interesting table of statistics has just been issued by the National Labor Department at Buenos Aires showing the minimum monthly expenditure that is required of a workman in Argentina with a wife and two children, says L. L. Lancaster, United States commercial attaché, Buenos Aires. In noting the figures it would be well to bear in mind that the average Argentine family has more than two children, and as a consequence expenses are larger than shown in the table. Of course, the living conditions and expenses vary considerably, but the prices and expenses shown are believed to apply in most respects to the great majority of cases.

The figures resulting from various investigations are as follows, value expressed in Argentine paper pesos (one Argentine paper peso equals $0.425 in United States currency):

Person
Milk	30
Groceries	25
Bread	10
Charcoal and wood	6
Men's clothing	5
Women's clothing	5
Children's clothing	3
Bedclothes and other sundry expenses	3
Footwear	3
Headgear	3
Rent	22
Incidentals	10
Total per month	129

In making up this table the figures are based on a second quality. The item of $10 per month for general expenses and incidentals is not high enough. Fairly good medical service is given free by the municipal authorities, but the high cost of drugs and medicines makes it certain that the item in question should be higher than $2, the amount given in the estimate.

The Soul of France.

Oh, France! so torn and wrecked and battle-scarred
Your people slain, your gay, bright heart in prison,
Rejoice that out of sorrow, pain and loss
Your glorious soul has risen.

Oh, France! great nation! brave and undimmed,
War-worn and weary, stormed by shot and shell,
You've given all and grudging not in the giving,
Your soul you would not sell.

With sorrowing hearts, but spirit all unbroken,
For thy dear sake, Oh, France, they played the game,
Mid tramping feet and thunder of the cannon
Your soul soared like a flame.

Oh, great-souled France! Renowned among the nations
Your noble stand, your foes' vain boast refuted;
The world to-day with mien of deepest reverence
The soul of France salutes.

Oh, France! fair land of deathless liberty
Land of the lily white and poppy red
Your sacred soil forever holds and guards them
And sanctifies our dead.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

The Stage.

Pantages—Vaudeville.

The Screen.

Domination—Mary Pickford in "Captain Kidd, Jr."

Variety—Alice Joyce in "Within the Law."

Royal Victoria—Dustin Farnum in "The Light of Western Stars."

Columbia—Corinne Griffith in "The Clutch of Circumstances."

Romano—Gladys Hulette in "For Sale."

Royal Victoria

Patrons of the Royal Victoria Theatre will welcome Dustin Farnum in his big United States production, "The Light of Western Stars," which will be shown here again to-night. This famous stage and screen star will be seen as the wild, but lovable Gene Stewart, ace cowboy of the "South Western border." With Dustin Farnum's virile, convincing talent and the most thrillingly fascinating of Zane Grey's masterly stories the picture teems with exciting interest. The plot deals with the adventures which arise out of Gene Stewart's wild wanderings that he would marry the first girl who blew into the little Western town. When he has carried out his wander further than he knew and the girl proves to be the sister of the rancher whose foreman Stewart is, things happen quick, and the audience swings between hope and fear right up to the final picture. This staging of the production Charles Swickard has caught the author's wonderful inspiration. The photography is magnificently beautiful in subject and in execution. Winifred Kingston is a fascinating leading woman and the support is excellent throughout.

DOMINION

As a stage play "Captain Kidd, Jr." was a genuine success, a whimsically delightful offering with the merit of great originality and the charm of freshness and quaint character delineation. As a screen vehicle for the talents of Mary Pickford, it will be numbered among her most successful offerings. Rida Johnson Young wrote the play from which Frances Marion constructed a—photoplay—that, from all accounts, retains not only the charm of the original but possesses independent quality, the result of Miss Marion's undoubted gift of scenarization and her thorough knowledge of the star's characteristic qualities.

As a production of the legitimate stage, "Captain Kidd, Jr." elicited the most favorable comment from the theatre-going public throughout the Dominion, and the best evidence of its quality was the fact that it was popular from the start—one of the most popular of Miss Young's numerous stage successes. In the role of Mary MacTavish, Mary Pickford is said to have developed new heights of histrionic perfection. She is lovable, delightful and tremendously effective in the character, it is said. The photoplay will be shown at the Dominion theatre a full week.

William D. Taylor has, according to report, given one of his best productions and the many quaint touches that have been secured are said to enhance the picture immensely. Charles Rosher as cameraman has succeeded in obtaining some exquisite scenic effects, and throughout, the production is declared to be even better than the previous offerings starring "Our Mary." F. A. Richardson was spared to Mr. Taylor and no effort was spared to make the play as thoroughly enjoyable as the stage version.

COLUMBIA

"The Clutch of Circumstances," the Vitaphone Blue Ribbon Feature, which was shown at the Columbia yesterday, is the story of the Puritan girl's bitter fight in a great city to save her invalid husband. She wins the fight and receives his scorn because he cannot believe she has remained true. But she gains the love of the man who has led her to fame and who does not claim the price she had promised to pay for her husband's sake.

Corinne Griffith has the featured role and in the supporting cast are Robert Galliard, David Herblin, Florence Deshon, Deakon Vance and Estia Banks.

She is seen in a strong and appealing role as Ruth Lawson, the Puritan girl, who loses her invalid husband after a bitter fight for him and for her own name, but who wins the love of a more worthy man.

VARIETY

"Within the Law," greatest legitimate stage success for a decade, opened at the Variety yesterday for a week's engagement, as a silent drama produced by Vitaphone and appears to be destined to be as great a screen success as was the legitimate production.

There are numerous reasons why the silent dramatization of Bayard Veiller's wonderful story should and will meet with popular favor wherever it is run. The characters in the play run the entire gamut of human emotions. That ever-burning question—partition store girls in order that they may follow the straight and narrow path of virtue—is vividly portrayed by Alice Joyce, who, as Mary Turner, a department store girl, is arrested for stealing from her employer.

Mary Turner is accused of a theft committed by another store employee. Notwithstanding her protestations she is convicted and sent to prison for three years. But before starting her trip to Sing Sing, she is granted an interview with Mr. Gilder, the proprietor of the department store, her accuser. She first begs for mercy, which is refused, and then she gives him the solution of stopping the store thief.

"Pay your girls more than six dollars a week," she tells her former employer, "that will stop the thefts, and save the girls." He agrees at the advice and she is led away.

Employer—"Are you a man who watches the clock?"

Man—"No, sir. I watch the typist. As soon as she begins powdering her nose I put up the books."

PANTAGES OFFERS EXCELLENT COMEDY

Well-balanced Vaudeville Bill Keeps House in Riot of Infectious Laughter

The current show at the Pantages is a well-balanced one. From Anita Diaz and her Darwinian demonstration to the gymnastic exhibition provided by Joe Fanton & Co., the bill is a strong one.

First night houses gave a big reception to the Empire Comedy Four, an excellent male quartette with Joe Jenney as the leading fun purveyor. The vocal efforts of this aggregation as well as the comedy stamp it as a high class act. As comedy singers they are in a class by themselves.

Darwinian Demonstration of Fun fitly describes Diaz's tropical of monkeydom. This lady presents eleven monkeys, including four chachas, baboons, two shinx baboons, three rheas and two drill monkeys. A variety of novelties are introduced by these clever little animals the antics of which keep the house in a state of riotous hilarity. In gymnastic work, jazz dancing and barrel rolling the monkeys provide a highly entertaining act.

Vaudeville a la Carte is presented by Nadell and Folette, the offering of this team being snappy and effective. The offering is nicely staged and the vocal numbers are excellently rendered.

Lella Shaw and her players appear in "Then She Goes Again," a travesty triangle playlet replete with snappy lines and creative of laughter. In the role of the social aspirant with a craze for dancing Miss Shaw reveals marked gifts as a comedienne. The principal is well supported by Lawrence Williams and Charles Burnison.

Joe Fanton and Company appear in "A Morning in Camp," an interesting novelty in which the members perform some amazing stunts on the trapeze.

Cliff Clark, billed as "The Versatile Vendor of Variety," contributes impressions and puts over a clever line of patter.

The film serial, "The Man of Might," missed connections this week, but the Pantages management were equal to the occasion and secured a film which is in keeping with the other features.

CELEBRATED MINSTREL PARTY WILL APPEAR

Harvey's Greater Minstrels Will Be Here Two Days This Week

The minstrel fans of this vicinity will be pleased to learn that one of the very best and latest minstrel organizations on the road is to visit this city.

Possibly certain people have forgotten that they are minstrel fans because it has been so long since they have had an opportunity to see a really first class minstrel—however, the fever of minstrel mania will get them when the richly dressed parade of Harvey's Greater Minstrels passes over our streets at noon the day they appear here.

The amusement question has by some people always involved the question of "amusement" questions but that theme is never aroused by the coming of a high class minstrel. Baseball games, a good circus and an up-to-date minstrel seem to be a least three forms of amusement which are never questioned by the most scrupulous.

Laughter, the creating of laughter, is the purpose of the minstrel, as well as the rendering of tuneful music and pleasing songs.

The minstrel man has been known from almost the beginning of this world's history and was well known by the writers of Biblical affairs. It is this very characteristic of the minstrel which makes it capable of appealing to all classes, and when Harvey's Greater Minstrels appear at the Royal Victoria theatre July 9 and 10 there will be seen many in the theatre who are not habitual theatre goers.

THE TRUTH ABOUT TRAINED ANIMALS.

To the Editor:—In the days of our childhood we all loved to visit a circus yet how little any of us understand even now, the appalling cruelty which lies behind trained animal performances.

The bowing and smiling owner, carressing and petting his animals on the stage, is generally a very different person behind the scenes.

"If," says Black and White, (London, England) "the audience could see the training instead of the performance, there are many trainers who could not face the public without a fair chance of being lynched."

Seekers after the truth, however, need not go to the trainer for information; let them rather investigate for themselves and read the many pamphlets setting forth facts gained by personal experience of others. Many English and American newspapers and periodicals have published these statements—founded absolutely on fact. Among these may be mentioned English Illustrated, London Illustrated, Sketch, Saturday Review, Observer, Maclean's Magazine, Black and White, and articles by John Galsworthy, Sidney Trist, Jack London, the National Canine Defence League, Animals' Guardian, various humane societies, and the evidence of ex-trainers, etc.

Few, however, have put the facts more convincingly before us than Jack London in his book, "Michael, Brother of Jerry." The story is written for the express purpose of exposing the brutal conditions surrounding trained animal performances; the data was collected from every available source. It will be readily agreed that Jack London was no sentimentalist, yet he says, "I have never been so appalled and shocked by the world's cruelty as I have been...when trained animal turns were being performed on the stage."

The "Jack London Club" has been formed under the auspices of various humane societies in England and on this continent. Membership is gained by sending one's name and address to one of these societies and by pledging oneself never to witness a trained animal act. There are no fees! The Boston club now has between 40,000 and 50,000 members.

It is impossible here to give full particulars of the way animals are trained for the stage or moving picture but a few examples may suffice:

An acrobatic dog balanced on its fore-legs upon the hand of the trainer was beaten 60 to 80 times a minute on hind-quarters and stomach while being held up by the hind legs; the blows were then directed on the leg he was to lift up for the balancing trick on one foot only.

The diving dog trick is one of the most brutal. It has been fully explained by an ex-trainer who relinquished his occupation because of the brutality required to achieve his object.

The performing bears, monkeys, lions, squirrels, etc., often move or dance so cleverly because the floor of the stage is electrified. (One electrician states that he was called to repair some machinery in a theatre, and on finding the current was being applied to dogs and cats he wrecked the whole outfit.)

A bucking mule was taught by means of an iron spike in the saddle or hand of the trainer.

A kissing pony as he lies on the ground receives a prick from a long, sharp pin, in the shoulder. Pain and the reflex action cause him to raise his head towards the loving master bending over to receive the kiss.

Starvation and mutilation (teeth and claws being drawn) are some of the means employed by trainers. So also are loaded revolvers, clubs, whips, hot irons, spiked collars, prongs and other barbarous appliances to be found among the trainers' equipment.

Every word that has been written here or elsewhere can be substantiated beyond a doubt. Not the least convincing evidence is that given by ex-trainers who frankly state that they have given up this nefarious means of earning a livelihood because of the brutalities involved.

Added to the sufferings of the poor victims of man's greed and inhumanity is the unnatural life spent on ship and railway, boxed in crates without light, almost without air, in heat or cold, enduring not only physical discomfort but paralyzing fear that "intelligent and humane" persons may here or elsewhere can be entertained. Could they know a tithe of the intolerable suffering and cruelty inflicted they would hiss that particular turn off the stage.

"I listened for an hour to a sad story told by the funny man of the show. Last night I had roared with laughter at the song he had sung—but to-night I found myself in the presence of a man who could not control his grief—tears ran down his face as he stated the various tortures he had witnessed." (Inspector Robinson, Northumberland S.P.C.A.)

There is one palliative to the distressing story and that is the decision of certain theatre managers (including Mr. Robinson of the New Brighton Theatre, N.Y., Milton Bode and others) who could not control his grief—tears ran down his face as he stated the various tortures he had witnessed." (Inspector Robinson, Northumberland S.P.C.A.)

A bill is at the present time before the Legislature of Massachusetts, forbidding all trained animal acts within that State. That it will meet with every opposition from trainers and other interested persons there is no doubt. If it passes it will deal a death-blow to one of the greatest evils ever devised by man's ingenuity.

DORA KITTO, Victoria, B. C., June 30, 1919.

REMEMBER THE FRENCH.

To the Editor:—The French Red Cross will hold a tag day on Saturday, July 12, for the benefit of the widows and orphans of our gallant Ally France.

Special attention is drawn to this event as it will be the last tag day on which Victorians will have an opportunity of showing their appreciation, in a practical manner, of that brave nation to which the world owes an incalculable debt of gratitude.

It is hoped that the public will respond with even more than its usual generosity to this appeal—an appeal made in the name of the common cause for which all have fought—that autocracy may perish from the earth and that democracy may reign. This Empire to-day, owes and pays to France the tribute of good-fellowship, gratitude and admiration. Good-fellowship because we fought by her side for four long weary years, and shared with her her hopes, her fears and her great suffering. Gratitude because she with heroic little Belgium, stemmed the tide of the German invasion, which gave us time and opportunity to take an effective part in the greatest drama that the world has ever staged.

The fate of humanity, civilization, democracy hung in the balance. France bled with many wounds her towns devastated, her thousands homeless, at the first Battle of the Marne struck a blow for the liberty of the world which shall be remembered for all time. In the light of later events the world recognizes this and so we accord to her our tribute of gratitude and admiration. To-day our Canadian dead lie sleeping in French graves and so for this reason, if for no other greater reason, the land of France shall be to us forever sacred.

UNION MEN TO CONSIDER ONE BIG UNION PLAN

Meeting To-Morrow Night Will Discuss Draft of Constitution For Proposed Organization

A "show down" by Victoria labor on the question of the One Big Union probably will be achieved to-morrow night at a special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council. All unionists are invited to consider the proposed nation-wide organization. This test of labor's sentiment toward the One Big Union is a nation-wide movement. Similar meetings to discuss the matter are being held at various points all over the country at present. The discussion will centre about a draft of the constitution of the proposed One Big Union. Whatever decisions are reached will probably be referred to a meeting of the One Big Union in October.

A certain section of Victoria labor is in favor of the One Big Union scheme, but it is expected that the opponents of the plan will be at the meeting to-morrow night in large numbers, particularly as all union men are invited.

Large Orchard at Vernon in Jeopardy Unless Water Provided—Premier Helps Owner.

With the request that the Government use its influence with the White Valley Irrigation Company, Dr. Rymer, of Vernon, waited upon Premier Oliver yesterday afternoon and stated that unless some arrangements could be made with the company to provide water supply for that part of his ranch at present unprovided for some 7,000 fruit trees would perish during the present summer.

Mr. Oliver agreed to wire to the manager of the company and ask him to give the matter his early consideration. Further than that at the present time the Premier advised Dr. Rymer he could not go.

It will be recalled, of course, that the Minister of Lands recently appointed a commission to investigate the circumstances governing the relations between the water users of the Vernon district and the chief source of supply—the White Valley Company.

WOULD DELAY ACTION

Minimum Wage Law is Pressing on Industry, Say Manufacturers.

Premier stated yesterday to a delegation of British Columbian Manufacturers that the minimum wage regulations were enacted by the Legislature, and that the executive had no power to modify their provisions. He agreed, however, the governmental wage control should be nation-wide in its application to be of the utmost value to the country and to eliminate all elements of unfairness and trade discrimination. He said that he would communicate with the Dominion authorities directly in an effort to learn whether Federal action is likely to be taken at the fall session of the House regarding the enactment of a minimum wage schedule Dominion-wide in scope.

The observations were made when the delegation asked for delay with the enforcement of the Minimum Wage Act until Federal legislation for the whole of Canada has been enacted.

MUST PREPARE FOR A NERVOUS EMERGENCY

Reform in National Nursing Needed in Canada, Convention Informed

"We have not sufficient trained workers to meet a Canadian national emergency," said Miss Jean Gunn, President of the Canadian National Nurses' Association at the opening session of the British Columbia Hospital Association to-day at the Empress Hotel. The recent influenza epidemic fully demonstrated the great need of co-operation and a systematized policy in Canadian nursing. Prayers were offered by Rev. H. T. Archibald, rector of St. James, at the outset of proceedings.

In a few appropriate remarks Lieutenant Governor Sir Frank Barnard welcomed the convention to the capital. He spoke of the high ideals of the organization that had been formed and he expressed the conviction that success would attend the efforts of the association to improve conditions so far as the public welfare was affected by medical matters.

Dr. MacLean, Hon. Dr. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, declared that the convention would result in the utmost benefit to hospital service in British Columbia. There was no more important work, he said, and it reflected great credit on the Hospital Association to gather in convention for the bettering of conditions.

Hospitals should be centres from which all health information should radiate. "Every interest of the community should be centred in the welfare of the hospital, because it is the one institution that touches the interests of the welfare of the community," said Dr. MacLean.

The Province of British Columbia has always been very generous with its hospitals, he proceeded. Over $1,000,000, or over one-ninth of the revenue of the Province has recently been expended in hospitals, a record which no other Province can boast. "We have 71 hospitals in a population of about 400,000 and possess some institutions that are second to none," said the Minister.

Dr. MacLean spoke of the advantages to be gained from a proper inspection of hospitals.

Civic Welcome. Mayor Porter extended a welcome on behalf of the City of Victoria. He agreed with the other speakers as to the importance of hospitals in a community.

H. S. Day, President of the Board of the Provincial Hospital and Jubilee Hospital and St. Joseph's extended a hearty welcome to the delegates to visit the local institutions.

Reasons For Pride. Miss Flaws, President of the Canadian National Nursing Association, said that British Columbia had accomplished three things that the East had been fighting for for a long time. There were shorter hours for pupil nurses, registration for graduate nurses, and an affiliated course in the University.

There were not sufficient applicants of educational standard available in Canada at present. She said "It is necessary to interest the high school girls in nursing work, as it is during the ages of seventeen and twenty, the receptive period of youth, that the hospitals lose so many candidates."

"Now that the University is opening its doors to give young women a course in nursing, we must prepare our young women to take advantage of the new opportunity."

In the course of her remarks Miss Gunn said: "We need in Canada a second kind of nursing and that is the class of nurse who can go into a hospital and take full charge. The association does not at all approve of a short term nursing training, but it does approve of properly trained attendants or nurses aid of practical qualifications."

A registration of nurses should begin with a proper survey of their status, Miss Gunn suggested. The getting together of the health organizations in Canada for the working out of the scheme, Canada, though doing much health work, had a steadily increasing demand for more. A post graduate training for nurses would be beneficial, said Miss Gunn.

R. S. Day moved a vote of thanks to Misses Gunn and Flaws, which was heartily and unanimously carried.

Father O'Boyle, Director of Catholic Hospitals of British Columbia, began his address in his usual happy vein. Getting down to his subject, "The Ministry of Healing," he spoke of the sacrifices called for in the ministrations of the medical profession, and the close relationship of the work with the highest ideals of Christianity. The profession had a great influence on the affairs of mankind. "I was sick and ye visited me," I take that in the spirit of the medical profession, to contribute your part to the full destiny of the race," said Father O'Boyle.

"Open more windows and less patients," was one of the items of advice from the convention. A little more prevention would obviate the need of so much cure said the speaker.

Nursing has the suffrage far outdistanced. It is second nature to women, and politics is not.

Father O'Boyle spoke of the fine sympathetic feeling that now existed between the Catholic and state hospitals.

He was followed by Dr. MacEachern. The Exhibits. Everything from toy beds and wicker baskets, to the latest hospital equipment is shown in the splendid and interesting exhibition which is free to the public during the convention.

Exhibits of the C. A. M. C. and the S. C. R. the Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospital have demonstrated their skill in weaving, embroidery, linoleum and other work. Articles of every kind are on view, and are of such interest as to attract a large attendance at the convention, which also is open to the public.

An interesting exhibit came from the Institute for the Blind and Incurables at Vancouver.

Corner Club Picnic.—On Wednesday by kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart the Girls' Corner Club will hold the annual picnic in the beautiful gardens at Tod Inlet. Tallyho and motor will leave Oddfellows Hall, Douglas Street at 2.15 o'clock, returning at 9 p. m. Members' transportation tickets can be obtained at 615 Port Street. The next meeting of the club will take place on Thursday, July 17, when Mrs. Nettie of Vancouver Christian Institute will give an address.

BIG CELEBRATION WILL BE PLANNED

Meeting at City Hall To-morrow Night; Massed Choirs to Sing

"If we are going to hold a proper Peace Celebration in Victoria, it seems to me there are a number of events that will have to be called off," said Mayor Porter after the Council meeting last night. "Tag days, picnics, concerts, public meetings and all that sort of thing should make way for the big peace celebration, and that should be the only object in people's minds on Saturday, July 19, and for much of the time beforehand," he said.

"I would like to emphasize the fact that a public meeting has been called for Wednesday at 5 o'clock, in the evening, and we would like to see the Council Chamber filled with people interested in making the Peace Celebration a success. We are advertising the meeting in the newspapers, so as to give the matter as much publicity as possible, as the meeting is for the purpose of arranging for a fitting celebration," continued the Mayor. Mayor Porter stated that at a meeting called for yesterday afternoon in the Council Chamber for the purpose of laying plans for the celebration there was a very poor attendance, as one seemed to know anything about it. He hopes that everyone interested in the matter will make it a point to be present to-morrow night.

An Immense Choir. Some splendid music to be sung on the night of July 19, has already been rehearsed by massed choirs of the city, and another rehearsal for this event will be in the George Jay School to-night at 8 o'clock. Jackson Hanby is the director and all the choir-masters in the city are assisting. Hundreds of voices are already engaged, and Mr. Hanby requests that everyone who can sing should attend to-night's rehearsal. The selections chosen are by the world's best composers, and one of the most striking out-door programmes of music ever rendered in this province will be staged by the immense choir.

NEW PASTOR PREACHED

Rev. J. L. Batty Opened Pastorate at Centennial Church on Sunday.

Inaugurating his pastorate at the Centennial Methodist Church the Rev. J. L. Batty, successor to the Rev. A. S. Colwell, preached his first sermon at both services on Sunday. Mr. Batty has but recently arrived from Winnipeg, after serving for two successive pastorates in that city. An eloquent and convincing preacher, the new minister created a very favorable impression, his sermons revealing a sincerity of purpose and earnestness of thought.

His subject, at the morning service was, "If You Sit Where I Sit," and in the evening he preached on "Visions and Tasks."

WILL BE REPRESENTED

Victoria Board of Trade Will Send Three Delegates to Meeting of Island Board.

J. L. Beckwith, George L. Warren and one other member of the Victoria Board of Trade will represent that body at the meeting of the Island Boards of Trade at Courtenay on Thursday.

Charles F. Law, of Vancouver representing the D'Arcy Exploration Company, will speak at the quarterly meeting of the Board on Friday afternoon on the effort his company is making to secure a concession in the Peace River District for the purpose of prospecting for oil.

Mrs. J. Todsen, M.G., has removed her orthopedic gymnasium from 408 Jones Building to 1515 Prospect Road, Oak Bay, at her new Rest and Nature Cure Home.

Nordheimer Jacobson with Bench to match

THE craftsmen of an earlier day, who were responsible for the first Nordheimer Pianos, possessed that unique proficiency commonly called genius.

Their successors of to-day are equally worthy of the tribute we pay to genius.

To them has fallen the privilege of developing an ideal. On them has rested the responsibility of delving deeper into the myriad intricacies of the piano-maker's craft. For them has been reserved the honor of producing the present-day an instrument possessing such purity and beauty of tone as to command for it the respect of a nation.

Vessels Are Splendid Advertisement For Port

Capt. F. Tristan, of the French High Commission, Declares Foundation-Built Ships Are Best Wooden Craft Yet Built in Either Canada or States

"I am of the opinion that they are the best wooden steamers yet built either in Canada or the United States." This was the tribute paid by Capt. F. Tristan, inspector for the French High Commission, to the 3,000-ton wooden steamships now under construction by the Foundation Company of British Columbia, Limited, at Victoria, to the order of the French Government.

Capt. Tristan, accompanied by Mrs. Tristan, left last night for the mainland, after looking over the vessels under way here. He spent several hours inspecting Hull 207, the first of the fleet of twenty ships, and which made such a fine showing under adverse conditions on her recent trials, and left the Ogden Point plant satisfied that the ship fitting out at the Foundation Company's machinery assembling plant are the finest class of wooden ship ever designed. He made especial reference to the excellent workmanship and staunchness of construction.

None Better

"Yes, I have inspected many types of wooden ships during my travels on this continent and can truthfully say that I have never seen a better designed or better built vessel than those being turned out in Victoria."

Capt. Tristan is particularly enamored with the fine lines of the Foundation-built ships, and he specially emphasized his liking of the beautiful stern lines. "With the sterns that these vessels have, I am sure they will turn nicely when loaded," he added.

Expression of approval was given to the manner in which the ships are being built and fitted out for sea. Splendid Organization. Capt. Tristan praised the wonderful organization that has been built up here in connection with this contract and spoke of the high efficiency and wonderful spirit prevailing in the yards.

All the French representatives are well pleased with the type of ship being turned out by the Foundation Company at its Victoria yards. In the event of there being a continued demand for wooden tonnage, and from the present indications there appears to be every likelihood of this, the recommendations of the French representatives will undoubtedly influence the placing of additional contracts here.

Good Advertisement

On delivery in France these ships will advertise themselves and incidentally advertise Victoria.

Bayly Hipkins, vice-president and Northwest manager of the Foundation Company, left by the afternoon boat yesterday for Seattle. He expressed his satisfaction over the fine performance of the first ship on her trials and expects her to exceed the speed requirements. While making no predictions, Mr. Hipkins is hopeful that further orders for ships will be placed here. With such excellently-equipped plants located here, he said, the prospects are exceedingly bright for future contracts.

TWENTY PASSENGER LINERS BUILDING FOR CUNARD LINE

Famous British Company Preparing For Future Business on Atlantic

To replace its losses sustained during the great war and more adequately take care of its rapidly developing business on the Atlantic, the Cunard Line, famous steamship corporation, has placed orders with British shipyards for twenty passenger liners of 20,000 to 25,000 tons each, according to C. A. Whitlock, British Columbia representative of the company, with headquarters at Vancouver, B. C. This statement was made to The Times-to-day by Mr. Whitlock, who is in the city after completing a trip to New York, where he has been conferring with the Cunard officials.

A number of these ships, Mr. Whitlock says, are nearing the launching stage and will be placed in the trans-Atlantic passenger service as they are turned over to the company.

It is generally predicted in shipping circles that the day of the mammoth liner is over and this would appear to be substantiated by the fact that the Cunard Line is not building liners over 25,000 tons.

Canadian Service

In the matter of the Cunard service between the United Kingdom and Canada, Mr. Whitlock states that there is every indication that the Canadian service will be resumed this fall, and that the company will be in a position to cater to the pre-Christmas travel from Canada.

On the possibility of the Cunard Line establishing a trans-Pacific service, Mr. Whitlock says that the plans of the company have yet to materialize along that line.

Aquitania to Resume. The giant liner Aquitania, which has performed such splendid war service and latterly has been engaged in repatriating Canadian troops, is expected to be released from Government control on the completion of her present trip.

Mr. Whitlock says the Aquitania will then be immediately drydocked and extensively overhauled preparatory to resuming in the regular passenger service on the Atlantic.

The restoration of the Aquitania to her former glory will occupy about five months.

French Consul Host AFTER TRIAL CRUISE. As the guests of A. O. P. Francis, French Consul, a party of Foundation officials and representatives of the French High Commission, attended a dinner held at the Empress Hotel on Saturday night following the successful endurance trials of Hull 207, the first of twenty ships to be completed here by the Foundation Company of British Columbia, Limited.

NIGHTLY SERVICE NOW IN OPERATION OUT OF VICTORIA. Nightly service between Victoria and Vancouver is now being maintained by the steamers Princess Victoria and Charnier. For the present the C.P.R. daylight services between Victoria and Vancouver and Victoria and Seattle are being taken care of by the steamers Princess Adelaide and Princess Patricia.

The best run of the Anxox was made from Cape St. Elias to Cape Ommaney, a distance of 384 miles, in forty-eight hours with the barge Baroda in tow, the steamship maintaining an average speed of eight knots.

TRANSPORT DIX LOSES PROPELLER

Steamer Is Dispatched From Honolulu to Render Assistance

Honolulu, July 8. — The United States army transport Dix, en route from Manila to San Francisco, lost a propeller while 250 miles out from Honolulu and sent a radio message to-day to the naval station here for assistance. The submarine tender Beaver was immediately dispatched to the location given by the Dix. No passengers were carried by the transport and it is not believed the vessel is in serious danger.

ANYOX STEAMED 3,422 MILES IN TWENTY-SIX DAYS

Seattle, July 8.—After steaming a distance of 3,422 miles in twenty-six days towing a barge nearly all the way, the steamship Anyox, of the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Company, is discharging a cargo of copper ore at the Tacoma smelter.

Capt. N. S. Nelson, master of the Anyox, made a detailed report of the performance of the vessel, which is considered the best she has made since going into service.

The Anyox sailed from Seattle June 7 for Seward and Anchorage, Cook Inlet, with the barge Henry Villard in tow. The steamship was laden with a full cargo of railroad supplies for the Alaskan Engineering Commission, while the barge carried a full cargo of lumber. The two vessels made Seward in nine days, arriving in that port June 16.

The barge was left in Seward, the Anyox proceeding to Anchorage to discharge her railroad equipment, which was completed on June 21.

The Anyox then went to Seward, where she took the barge Baroda, also of the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Company, in tow for Ellamar on Prince William Sound, arriving the following day. The steamship then loaded a full cargo of copper ore at Ellamar and with the Baroda in tow left, sailed for Seattle on June 24 at 10 a.m. Ketchikan was reached by the two vessels on June 28 at midnight and after taking on water, the Anyox and Baroda sailed for Seattle at 4 o'clock a.m. June 29.

While off Cape Lazo, Captain Nelson received a wireless message to proceed to Britannia Beach, near Vancouver, B. C., for a full cargo of copper ore for the barge. He immediately changed his course and arrived in Britannia Beach at 10 o'clock a.m. July 2.

The barge loaded 2,000 tons of copper ore from the Britannia Mines in eleven hours and the two vessels departed for Tacoma, where they arrived at 10 o'clock p.m. July 3.

The best run of the Anyox was made from Cape St. Elias to Cape Ommaney, a distance of 384 miles, in forty-eight hours with the barge Baroda in tow, the steamship maintaining an average speed of eight knots.

UNION STEAMSHIP COMPANY RESUMES

Steamer Venture Will Leave Vancouver on Wednesday For Northern Ports

Capt. George McGregor, local representative of the Union Steamship Company, announces that it is proposed to dispatch the steamship Venture from Vancouver at 11 o'clock Wednesday night for Surf Inlet, Prince Rupert, Skeena, and Naas River Canaries.

Latest word indicates that all regular sailings will be resumed.

The only change in the former schedule will be that the Chelohsin sailing formerly on Wednesday nights for Rivers Inlet, Ocean Falls and Bella Coola will hereafter sail on Thursday nights.

Previous to the tie up it was expected that the steamer Chelohsin operated as a freight carrier only, would make one and possibly two more trips to Victoria.

It is announced now, however, that no trips will be made to Victoria for a number of weeks at least.

AQUILO GOING NORTH ON PLEASURE CRUISE

Within the next few days the trim little pleasure yacht Aquilo, recently acquired jointly by H. P. Alexander, President of the Pacific Steamship Company, and D. C. Jackling, the millionaire mining operator of Salt Lake City and San Francisco, from the Rogers estate, will be ready for a voyage to Alaskan waters.

Mr. Alexander will be unable to make the pleasure jaunt to Alaska at this time, owing to his selection as a member of an important advisory committee to the United States Shipping Board. He recently left here for San Francisco.

NERVES THAT TIRE. The most easily tired nerves in the body are the nerves of smell. As you pass a rose in the garden the quantity of perfume that gets into your nostrils must be millions of billions of times smaller than the tiniest grain of sand. But rub the strongest perfume on your upper lip, and in a few seconds you fail to notice it, the nerve of smell is so quickly fatigued.

The heat nerves and cold nerves, which are quite distinct from the nerves of ordinary sensation, also give over working very quickly. A bath that seems quite hot when you get into it very soon ceases to cause any particular feeling of heat.

Nerves of hearing and sight can go through an enormous amount of work. For sixteen hours a day they work hard, and are still willing to do more. The nerves of the heart are the most untiring of all. From the first dawn of life until the last gasp they work without stopping for one instant.

LARGE INCREASE IN VALUE OF SEA FISH LANDED DURING MAY

Ottawa, July 8.—An increase of over $800,000 in the total value of sea fish taken during the month of May this year as compared with the same month a year ago, is shown by the monthly statement on sea fishing results, issued by the naval department.

The total value of sea fish at the point of landing on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during May this year was $3,085,050, while in May, 1913 it was $2,229,577.

LACK OF ORDERS FORCES PLANT TO CLOSE ITS GATES

New Westminster, July 8.—The Poplar Island shipyard of the New Westminster Construction and Engineering company, has closed down for good, because of lack of orders, according to a statement made by H. M. Fullerton, secretary-treasurer of the company, who is of the opinion that a quietus has been put on the wooden shipbuilding industry as far as this district is concerned. The company is completing its fifth vessel for the French Government.

FUSILIERS ADJUTANT HAS NOW RETURNED

Major P. F. Villiers, D. S. O., of this city, has returned from overseas after almost five years' continuous service. He left Victoria with the famous little detachment headed by Sir Arthur Currie, in August, 1914, and after serving with the 16th Battalion became brigade major, 3rd Brigade, and in 1917 became G. S. O. 29th Imperial Division. He wears in addition to the D. S. O. and the 1915 ribbon, the Order of Danilo, a Montenegrin honor. Before the war he was adjutant of the 88th Fusiliers Regiment here.

After the armistice was signed Major Villiers was one of three officers sent to Field-Marshal von Hindenburg's headquarters at Kassel to demand enforcement of certain armistice terms, which were being violated. Everything seemed to be at a standstill. Major Villiers said, just as in a big strike. Hundreds of soldiers stood aimlessly at every street corner, and no commercial business of any kind seemed to be going on. The car in which he was being driven by a German staff officer under the flag of truce was stopped by the soldiers and workers' council.

TRADES LICENSES ARE FINALLY SETTLED

Council Makes Revision Which Will Be Ratified at Meeting on Friday

During a short session of the City Council last night some amendments were made to the Trades License By-law and a meeting will be held at 2.30 Friday afternoon finally to deal with the matter. As the draft of the by-law now stands retail stores employing two or less persons will pay a license of $5 for every six months; where there are three to five employees the fee will be $10 for every six months; between six and ten employees, a $15 fee and where there are over ten employees the fee will be $20 every six months.

The interpretation of "department store" is a store handling over five lines and employing over five people. In such cases a fee of $7.50 for each line up to ten lines may be charged, but there is a limit of $200 set by Statute which the city cannot go beyond in any case.

The Council has been working on the proposed by-law since June 16 and has been aided by suggestions from all parties concerned. A revision of the license system is something that has been demanded by the smaller dealers consistently through the past years, and the problem of working out a system that would be acceptable to all has been discussed by previous Councils, but nothing definite was attempted owing to the difficulties in the way.

Reinstatement Problems.
The removal of one of the waterworks employees to make room for a returned soldier, formerly an employee of that department, was discussed by Alderman Johns and Fullerton, who pointed out that the man removed was elderly, and might have great difficulty in finding something to do. Alderman Sangster objected to meddling with the department heads. However, a resolution was offered to reinstate the official, but Mayor Porter ruled it out of order, stating that there were three returned men, former waterworks employees, looking for their positions back. The matter, at the suggestion of Alderman Cameron, was laid over for one week.

Will Fight Claims.
At the suggestion of Alderman Sangster, the Council decided to instruct City Solicitor Hannington to oppose the claims of W. R. Davies of the City of Victoria, who is claiming damages from the city for injuries to their person and clothing through falling in the oil pitted on the city roads.

Joint Sewers.
The Council decided to seek powers from the Legislature to enter into agreements for the joint ownership and management of sewers. This was done in the recommendation of City Engineer Preston and Alderman Sangster, chairman of the Streets Committee. It was found necessary owing to the fact that the city itself is powerless to enter into such an agreement with Esquimalt regarding certain boundary sewers.

A communication from the Princeton Board of Trade enclosing a resolution by the City Council, a resolution dealing with the building of the Trans-Provincial Highway was "received and read" at the suggestion of Alderman Johns, who said that it was a Federal matter with which the City Council had nothing whatever to do.

The Hired Vehicles By-law was laid on the table for one week.

BOYS' CAMP PROMISES TO BE BIG SUCCESS

All Lads Whose Fathers Were Killed Overseas to Be Guests at Camp Martindale

An open invitation is extended to all local boys whose fathers have been killed in the Great War to spend a week at Camp Martindale as guests of the people of Victoria under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. It is expected that the mothers of the boys will appreciate such an opportunity of having their sons enjoy a week of camp life and the invitation to the boys is one that should not be missed. The camp director has obtained a list of boys eligible for this offer from A. E. Foreman, but the list is only of sons of N.C.O.s and men. It is hoped to make the invitation general to all local boys whose fathers have made the supreme sacrifice and mothers would help by calling at the camp office in the Y.C.C. corner view and Blandford Streets for registration.

The camp is open to all boys between the ages of twelve and eighteen years of age, whether members of the Y.M.C.A. or not, and will be open for six weeks beginning July 16. Early application should be made to the camp director.

Camp Martindale is to be located on the Meadlands Farm estate, Patricia Bay. The site is ideally located and combines all the attractions so essential to a successful vacation camp for boys. The swimming beach is sandy, the water warm, the playing field is large and level, and the boys will be well housed in military bell tents, with marquees for dining.

Some special activities are also being planned for, including hikes to the nearby beaches, Resthaven, Brentwood and the Observatory. The camp fire opportunity will not be lost sight of. Special speakers are being invited to interest the boy campers in astronomy, in nature study and kindred subjects.

Stubbs, R. A. F., who will be associated with the camp director, will be responsible for camp fire stunts. Camp Director R. C. Crompton will instruct a class in life saving each week, and the boys will be examined for the elementary and proficiency certificates of the Royal Life Saving Society.

The camp will provide a vacation that is ideal for boys and it is asked that registrations be made as early as possible.

AN OBEDIENT MEN.

Father: Joe, why do you suppose that old hen persists in laying in the coal yard?

Joe: Why, father, I think she has seen the notice: "Now is the time to lay in coal."

WANTS BRIDGE AND ROAD CONNECTIONS

Sayward District Needs Described by J. E. Armishaw, Now on Visit

The Sayward district has a great future ahead if certain improvements can be carried out, according to J. E. Armishaw, J. P., F. Hart and E. Morton, who have just completed their visit to Victoria in connection with representations laid before the Government. Messrs. Hart and Morton have been seeking a suitable location for the settlement of some fifteen families, and they have decided that the Sayward district excels all others in point of attractions and productive possibilities.

The part waited on the Premier, the Minister of Public Works and the Dominion and Provincial Land Settlement representatives. "It is extremely necessary," says Mr. Armishaw, "that the old bridge across the Salmon River be replaced with a little delay as possible, as it is urgently required in the development of the district. In fact, the lack of such a bridge has proved to be a big hindrance, as development is retarded and settlers are discouraged from settlement in the district through lack of transportation connections, and a resultant isolation." In view of the desire of a number of prospective settlers to get settled on the land in the vicinity, Mr. Armishaw thinks this is the appropriate time to go ahead with the scheme. The residents of Sayward are also asking that the Island Highway be extended to Sayward, which will necessitate the construction of a short stretch of new road. They are anxious to have through connection by automobile with Victoria. Mr. Armishaw says the Government has promised to investigate the request.

DOMESTIC SERVANTS' FOURTEEN POINTS

Housekeepers Reform Domestic Service Conditions in Calgary

A new era of domestic service has entered into being in Calgary where the cooks, housemaids and other household workers have formed themselves into The Housekeepers' Association. The association is officially recognized by the Confederated Women's Clubs of Canada, and recently was admitted to membership of the Federal Workers' Union of Calgary.

Issue Mandatory.

Evidence that the old conditions of domestic service have fallen into the limbo of forgotten things in the prairie city is shown by the mandatory of the association which is presented to the housewife before any engagement is entered into. The mandatory comprises fourteen clauses, in effect as follows:

1. I promise good behavior and my best services to my employer.
2. The rate of my wages shall be per month.
3. Ten hours shall constitute a day's work.
4. If more hours are required they shall be regarded as overtime and paid for at the rate of 15 cents an hour.
5. I shall have every Sunday evening free after 6.30 o'clock.
6. My employer shall speak of me as her "housekeeper," and shall address me as Miss or Mrs. So-and-So.
7. I shall have the privilege of entering or departing by the front door.
8. I shall have the use of a suitable room one evening a week in which to entertain my friends until 10 o'clock.
9. I shall make it a rule to be in my employer's house at 11 o'clock every evening.
10. I shall be given proper board.
11. Comfortable and sanitary lodging shall be provided for me.
12. This engagement of service may be terminated at any time by either party giving two weeks' notice.
13. In case of the violation of any of these terms, either party may terminate the engagement immediately.
14. All complaints from either employees or employers shall be laid before an arbitration board, composed of members of the Housekeepers' Association, who shall seek to adjust the difficulties with justice.

All-Round Satisfaction.

According to the prairie press, the arrangement is proving satisfactory to the "housekeepers," while the housewives are said to be entirely satisfied with the situation, and declare that they will never again return to the old regime.

The domestics have shown a serious determination to uplift their vocation and make it one in which any self-respecting working woman may take honest pride. Their organization has

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR HOUSES RECEIVED

Esquimalt Council Utilizing Its Allocation Under Housing Scheme

Applications under the Dominion Housing Scheme are being received by the municipal authorities in large numbers, Reeve Coles told the Esquimalt Council last night. The practice of giving preference to men owning their own land, said the Reeve, was enabling the municipality to spread its allocation over a greater number of cases than would be possible otherwise.

"The landless men are the ones we most want to help," contended Councilor Wise, but the remainder of the Council maintained that the home-building was the primary object.

The early closing by-law was put through committee, and will go through its final stages at the next meeting.

The thanks of the Council were tendered to J. C. McIntosh, M. P. for Nanaimo, and to Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M. P. for Victoria, for their work at Ottawa, chiefly in connection with the securing of the Esquimalt dry dock. Mr. McIntosh will be invited to attend the next session of the Council in order that he may explain the work accomplished during the recent session of the Federal Parliament.

Sweeney cooperage plant was emitting sparks in dangerous volume, caused the Council to report the matter to Chief of Police Palmer, and in his capacity of Fire Marshal he will make an investigation. The main charge is that the spark arrester at the top of the burner is not efficient, and this point will be referred to the Vancouver Island Fire Underwriters' Association for action.

WHAT SHE WANTED.

A southern man tells of a conversation he overheard between his cook and a maid, both negroes, with reference to a recent funeral of a member of their race, at which funeral there had been a profusion of floral tributes. Said the cook: "Dat's all very well Mandy; but when I dies I don't want no flowers on my grave, Joe! plant a good old watermelon vine; an' when she gets ripe, you come dar, an' don't you eat it; but jus' use it on de grave, an' et de good ole juice dribble down through de ground."

NOT ASPIRIN UNLESS "BAYER" ON TABLETS

Only Tablets Marked With "Bayer Cross" Are Genuine Aspirin—Others Not Aspirin at All!

"Bayer" Now Made in Canada by a Canadian Company—All Rights Purchased from U. S. Government

If anybody intimates that "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are German made or owned, he is playing unfair to a Canadian Industry, and to Canadian Workmen. Absolutely no German interest in Canadian Company.

Unless you see the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on the tablets you are not getting Aspirin at all. The "Bayer Cross" means true Aspirin—no other tablets are Aspirin.

Don't accept Aspirin in a pill box. Buy a "Bayer Package!"

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Colds, Grippe, Joint Pains, Neuritis.

Proper and safe directions are in every "Bayer" package.

Boxes of 12 tablets—Bottles of 24—Bottles of 100—Also Capsules.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monacette, a subsidiary of Salicylic Acid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."
